

Washington—Whether there is a compromise on the Supreme court issue now rests with one man—President Roosevelt.

Administration leaders in Congress are ready to make concessions on the proposal for six new justices. Several even believe, privately, that compromise is necessary to pass any kind of a judicial bill, and what to them is more important, in order to avoid a dangerous rift in Democratic ranks.

However, if the President insists on standing pat, the leaders, like good soldiers, will go down the line for him. But they would much rather make a deal with the opposition.

If the President would agree to reduce his demand to two additional justices, making a Supreme court of 11, he could cut the ground from under his foes and his bill would skyrocket through the Senate by an overwhelming majority. It is doubtful if the opposition could muster 30 votes against a two-judge proposal.

Without exception all the waverers and fence-straddlers, like McCarran of Nevada, O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Chavez of New Mexico, Bone of Washington, Nye and Frazier of North Dakota, Johnson of Colorado, would plump for such a plan. They are desperately anxious to find a way to line up with the President. To them compromise would be like manna from heaven.

Admittedly—But But up until the time of his departure, the President was adamant against any modification of his demands.

He was firmly convinced that he had the votes to win in the Senate. It is significant, however, that White House intimates did not preclude the possibility of a compromise. They laid great emphasis on the fact that one thing the President was anxious to avoid, if at all possible, was a split in the Democratic party.

"We don't want to leave any unhealed wounds," one Presidential confidant explained. "If it becomes necessary we may have to give ground to save the faces of some of the boys."

Incidentally, this concern for "the boys" does not apply to Senators Burt Wheeler and Ed Burke, the two opposition generalists. The New Deal has definitely broken with them and will not lift a finger to bring them back into the fold.

The big decision facing the President when he returns to his desk Thursday is whether the time has come to make terms.

The decisions upholding the Washington minimum wage and Wagner labor laws, even though 5-to-4 decisions, unquestionably have dulled the edge of his attack on the Supreme court. Privately, White House strategists admit this. A favorable ruling on the social security act would further strengthen the hand of the opposition.

One the other hand, should the court invalidate the law the adverse effect on the opposition would be crushing and the President's bill would be a walkover.

Insiders, therefore, are convinced that Roosevelt will stand pat until after the Supreme court's ruling on the social security issue, due in the next few weeks. If the decision goes against the law he won't compromise; if it is favorable there still would be time for him to talk terms.

Note, if the President agrees to a two-judge plan, action on the judicial issue would be tremendously expedited. A bill of this kind could be put through the Senate in a couple of weeks. "If Roosevelt insists on his six new judges the fight will drag out many weeks."

Crop Mixture Texas grapefruit growers opened their eyes with wonder the other day when the morning mail brought them copies of a marketing agreement from Washington.

They had expected the marketing agreement—an AAA measure—but had not expected to be exhorted on the subject of sharecroppers in the cotton fields.

After two pages pertaining to grapefruit, they came upon two pages which read like a share-cropper's declaration of independence. Puzzled, many growers returned their agreements unsigned, declining to mix cotton with grapefruit.

Thereupon, AAA discovered that careless clerks had bound together pages 1 and 2 of one subject, and 3 and 4 of another. This mis-mating was done 2,000 times before the error was discovered.

Armament Race Although President Roosevelt went to Buenos Aires last December in order to help cement the peace of the Americas, his mission turned out to be an indirect cause of a South American rearmament race.

SEWAGE DISPOSAL PLANT HERE OPERATING

COMPLETE TIE-UP BY NIGHT; MOST MODERN

Citizens Invited To Inspect Plant in West End

Dixon's new sewage treatment plant will be in operation this evening, receiving the city's entire sewage. The first sewage reached the plant yesterday from the south section of the city, west of Peoria avenue. Throughout today, other sections were being opened into the vast system of underground pipes and by 5 o'clock this evening, the entire system will be in full operation. Clarence Hill has been named by Mayor William V. Slothower to serve as system operator. For several weeks, David Seidel, engineer of the Wells Engineering Company will remain here to instruct the Dixon man in the various and complicated operations of the plant.

The treatment plant represents an expenditure of slightly more than a quarter of a million dollars, of which amount 45 per cent or in excess of $116,000 was obtained under the PWA federal grant. The treatment plant alone represents an expenditure of approximately $90,000 and the intercepting sewer system $160,000.

Completed and now in operation the plant and system remove from Rock river 60 per cent of the city's sewage. The plant is designed to dispose of sewage of a city of at least 15,000 population and is expected to serve for at least 20 years to come, this to be determined by the city's growth. The grounds surrounding the treatment plant, property purchased by the city at the west end of First street, are to be landscaped this spring, and minor additions made. This work is expected to be started very shortly.

Inspection Invited Mayor, Slothower and Operating Engineers, Seidel and Hill invite citizens to visit the plant at any time and its operations will be explained. At a later date when the landscaping is completed, a day will be set aside for the inspection of the treatment plant. The operations are very interesting, from the time that the sewage reaches the plant through the system of sewers until the clear water flows back into Rock river with 60 per cent of all sewage removed. The sewage reaches the plant by gravity and no chemicals are used in the treatment stages.

The main pipe line to the plant is 36 inches in diameter and enters the plant 25 feet below the surface of the ground. The sewage is screened in the first operation and all organic matter then enters a basin where it is ground into minute parts, not larger than three-sixteenths of an inch. This then enters a wet well, where it again is raised to a higher level and all sand, gravel and dirt removed. The sand and gravel are washed and removed by an elevator system and the organic matter passes on into a settling tank. Organic solids are then removed and the water which is practically clear, flows back into the river. The solids are then treated in other large wells until disposed of.

Vain Precaution DuQuoin, Ill., May 11—(AP)—Three years ago, when thieves stole tobacco from the Crossman Wholesale Company, the proprietor put in a concrete vault. Last night, thieves removed a 30-inch brick wall from the rear of the vault and stole cigarettes valued by Manager Vic Crossman at several hundred dollars.

Rockford Woman's Attorney Says She Was Drugged With Truth Serum

Rockford, Ill., May 11—(AP)—Mrs. Helen Clark, 43, collapsed on the witness stand today after repudiating what county authorities said was a confession she killed her husband, Richard, April 6.

She was the first defense witness in her trial for murder, which opened yesterday before Circuit Judge A. E. Fisher. Court was recessed until later in the day.

Raphael Yalden, court-appointed defense attorney, indicated he would introduce testimony to show Mrs. Clark was drugged by the effects of a "truth serum" when she made the alleged confession to sheriff's officers a week after Clark was shot to death in his bed.

Just before her collapse, Mrs. Clark testified she was in another room of the house with her small son by a previous marriage when she heard a shot in her husband's bedroom. She and the nine-year old boy, John Baker, rushed into the room, she said, and saw Clark lying on the bed. She said he shot himself.

Swapped Jobs

Bridgeport, N. J., May 11—(AP)—Frank R. Beakley is the new chief janitor of the Bridgeport high school. He will receive $1,350 a year.

He resigned his previous position last night to accept the job. For six and one-half years he has been president of the board of education—without salary.

COURT BILL IN FINAL WEEK OF DELIBERATION

Senate Committee Is Studying Compromise Proposed

Washington, May 11—(AP)—The Senate judiciary committee began its final week of deliberation on the Roosevelt court bill today by studying the compromise proposed by Senator Andrews (D-Fla.).

His compromise would add two new members of the Supreme Court by legislation. He also proposed a constitutional amendment to require retirement of justices at 75 years of age.

Other alternative proposals for revising the high court were before the court.

Senator Burke (D-Neb.), a leading opponent, suggested a constitutional amendment limiting the court to nine members, providing for compulsory retirement at 75 and requiring seven votes to override acts of Congress.

Senator McAdoo (D-Cal.), a supporter of the President's bill, submitted a proposal to increase the court to 15 and then let the states vote on a constitutional amendment to hold it at that size for 25 years.

Vote Next Week

The committee will vote a week from today on whether to recommend the Roosevelt bill to the Senate. At present a majority of the 18 committee members opposes both the bill and any compromise.

The imminence of this vote has revived public addresses for and against the bill. Five Democratic Senators spoke last night against its adoption.

Senator Burke in a radio address said a constitutional amendment would end "the bitter struggle that otherwise will rage on indefinitely." Senators McCarran of Nevada, Gerry of Rhode Island, Copeland of New York and Bailey of North Carolina opposed the bill in addresses at a Philadelphia meeting of the defenders of the Constitution.

State Federation Labor Frowns On Any Separation

Springfield, Ill., May 11—(AP)—Ray Edmundson, state president of the United Mine Workers of America, was of the belief today that the state federation of labor "will not allow the U. M. W. A. to be separated from its essential organization."

His remarks last night concerned a reported invitation from the American Federation of Labor for the Progressive Miners of America to become affiliated with it. The Progressive Miners have called for a referendum on the question. The U. M. W. A. is under suspension in the federation.

"District No. 12 of the U. M. W. A.," Edmundson said, "expects to continue its affiliation with the Illinois Federation of Labor." He said the district was affiliated only "indirectly with the A. P. of L."

R. G. Soderstrom, president of the state federation of labor, said he had heard nothing official from the A. P. of L. concerning the reported invitation.

Chicago, May 11—(AP)—Representatives of the Illinois coal operators' association and of District 12 United Mine Workers of America resumed their wage scale conference today.

HYPOTHESES OF AIR DISASTER ARE DISCARDED

Evidence Failed to Show Cause of Hindenberg Tragedy

Lakehurst, N. J., May 11—(AP)—The mystery of the $3,000,000 Hindenberg disaster deepened today as aeronautical experts appeared inclined to scout the two foremost theories advanced for her destruction.

When the swastika-embellished silvery sky cruiser plunged to destruction in the horrible hydrogen fire Thursday night, the major suppositions were that either a spark of static electricity from the ground or a backfire spark from an overheated motor touched off the highly inflammable gas. Both hypotheses were in question today.

Commander Charles E. Rosen-dahl, eyes witness of the disaster and the country's ranking dirigible expert, dealt a blow to the ground spark theory yesterday when he indicated strongly he did not believe this or lightning was responsible for the doom of the ship.

Backfire Questioned The unanimity of Rosen-dahl and other expert eyewitnesses as to the exact spot where the furiously burning fire broke out first appeared today to bring into serious question the possibility of an engine backfire spark acting as a torch to the gas.

This interpretation was pointed out by a navy officer, who withheld his name, in discussing the formal and off-the-record evidence so far available.

The expert witnesses are agreed, he said, that the fire first broke forth on the upper left side of the Hindenberg stern, just forward of where the stabilizers start. This spot, he pointed out, is comparatively remote from the stern engines. With the evidence developed to this extent, the department of commerce investigation of the tragedy halted today so that crew survivors and navy men from the air station here might attend the funeral services in New York for 24 of the Hindenburg's company.

Hearings resume tomorrow.

Victim Of Horse Trampling To Be Buried Wednesday

(Telegraph Special Service) Franklin Grove, May 11. The funeral of Lawrence J. Schanberg of Ashton, who passed away at the Katherine Shaw Betha hospital in Dixon Sunday as the result of injuries received when he was presumably trampled by a horse on the Jacob Aschenbrenner farm west of Ashton Thursday evening, will be held at the Evangelical church in Ashton at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Rev. P. O. Bailey will officiate and burial will be in the Ashton cemetery.

Roosevelt Goes To Fort Worth

Galveston, Tex., May 11—(AP)—President Roosevelt left here by special train at 10 A. M. Central Standard Time today for Fort Worth. He will spend the night there at the home of his son, Elliott, and leave tomorrow evening for Washington where he is due to arrive Friday morning.

The President had landed a short while before from an 11-day golf fishing cruise and motored through several miles of crowded streets of this island city en route to the train. Brief stops at Houston and Texas A. and M. college were planned on the way to Fort Worth.

Announcement was made today that promotions have come to the above officers of Company A, 129th Infantry, Illinois National Guard, under orders from Adjutant General Carlos E. Black, with the approval of the United States Department of War. Capt. Sherwood Dixon, left, who has been in command of the company since its organization in Dixon in May, 1928, has been made Regimental Adjutant and Intelligence Officer; August W. Wimpelberg, center, first lieutenant, has been elevated to the captaincy, and Wayne K. Wolfe, second lieutenant, has been promoted to the first lieutenant.

"Where Were You Day of Lindbergh Kidnaping?" Question Asked Lawyer

Parker Trial in Newark Takes New Angle

Newark, N. J., May 11—(AP)—Paul H. Wendel, former Trenton lawyer, was called upon suddenly today by defense counsel in the conspiracy trial of Ellis H. Parker to account for his whereabouts on the day the Lindbergh baby was kidnaped from its Hopewell home.

As the cross examination took this unexpected turn, it was apparent immediately whether the questioning was the start of a defense effort to connect Wendel with the celebrated crime, as Parker, chief of Burlington county detectives, has contended previously.

When Wendel's "confessions" of the crime were produced on the eve of Hauptmann's scheduled execution for the kidnaping, delaying the electrocution, Parker told the Mercer county grand jury, one of its members said, that he considered the former Trenton lawyer "guilty as hell."

J. Mercer Davis, of counsel for Parker and his son, Ellis, Jr., handled the examination. The Parkers are accused of conspiring in the kidnaping and torture which Wendel claims made him give the confessions which he later repudiated.

Vice Commander Of Legion Booked For Flag Day Ceremony

Senior Vice Commander Leonard J. Appelquist of Aurora, Department of Illinois American Legion, will be the principal speaker at the annual Elks Flag Day exercises in Dixon on the evening of June 14, according to an announcement made today by Walter M. Smith, past commander of Dixon post, American Legion, and chairman of the Flag Day committee of the local Elks lodge.

The program will be held in Haymarket Square, the weather permitting, but in the event of rain, will be held at the club house. Invitations will be extended to all patriotic organizations of the city. Girl and Boy Scout organizations and the Dixon state hospital band to participate in the program.

The speaker is secretary of the Aurora lodge of Elks and will be accompanied by a delegation from that city. His candidacy is also being furthered for his promotion in the Illinois Legion circles to the office of state commander this summer.

DRUNKEN DRIVING

Oiley, Ill., May 11—(AP)—Charles Kern and Theodore Foll, both of Oiley, are to face a county court hearing tomorrow on charges of driving while intoxicated in connection with the automobile accident death of Everett Ridgely, 23, of Sumner, Ill. Ridgely died Saturday of injuries suffered May 4 when Kern's machine crashed into the car Ridgely was attempting to crank.

Coronation Fliers Will Not Be Able to Remain for Pageant

London, May 11—(AP)—Dick C. S. T. yesterday on the first leg of their round trip hop from New York to London.

"They both feel fine," said Emil Hurja, their agent. They awoke at 10 A. M., after only 10 hours sleep to rest them from 21 hours in the air, and set out on a spree of coronation souvenir-buying. Later they planned to go over their plane at Croydon. Hurja explained they would have to start the return flight from Liverpool as there was not enough "getaway" at Croydon for a plane with the load of gas they will have to carry.

Was in Hurry

Dallas, May 11—(AP)—When Sam Hickman is in a hurry, he goes places.

During an argument, a bullet ripped through his right arm pit. Emergency hospital physicians raced to the scene but found no Sam. They returned to the hospital to find the victim, grinning and painting, waiting for them.

"When I'm shot," said Sam, "I just can't wait for no ambulance I was in a hurry."

SLAIN BANDIT IDENTIFIED AS FUGITIVE TODAY

Escaped From Chester Penitentiary Over a Month Ago

East St. Louis, Ill., May 11—(AP)—A bandit, killed with a companion here last night in an attempt to rob a drug store, was identified early today by fingerprints as Charles Glendenning, alias McDonald, who escaped from the Illinois state penitentiary at Joliet over a month ago. Chief of Detectives George Byrnes said.

The second gunman was identified as Frank Rybicki, 34, of East St. Louis, by a cousin, Detective Byrnes reported.

The bandits were shot down by Charles Berger and Robert Foster, druggists. Berger told police he and his wife, Mrs. Betty Berger, and Mr. and Mrs. Foster were in the store when the two gunmen entered.

As the druggist went to the rear of the store to fill the bandit's order, the man drew a pistol, saying "this is a stickup." The other man remained near the door.

Broke Up Class

Oakland, Calif., May 11—(AP)—The "murder victim" at the police school for rookies broke up the class by calling for an ambulance. At a hospital, physicians said the "victim," Inspector Jess Jackson, suffered severe powder burns because the pistol loaded with blanks had been fired at too close range.

Leaves College $200 To Benefit Worthy Students

The will of the late Guri Peterson of Lee was admitted to probate before Judge Lean Zick in the county court this morning. Two charitable bequests are included in the instrument, which provides that a sum, less than $200 be paid to St. Olaf college of Northfield, Minn., to be used for the benefit of the needy, worthy students, and a similar amount is left to the First Lutheran church of Lee to be used for the benefit of the church. To the children of Hans Hagen of Radcliffe, Iowa, deceased the sum of $50 each is bequeathed. The remainder of the estate is to be divided share and share alike to the children of a brother, Barney Peterson, the children of a sister, Anna Oppendahl and the children of a deceased sister, Joran Prestegard. Thomas Hilsen and Brent Prestegard of Lee are named executors of the estate.

The will of the late Mrs. Hattie E. Tice, whose death occurred in this city recently, has been filed in the county court. A son, Daniel P. Tice, Jr., is named sole beneficiary and executor of the estate.

PROMOTIONS ORDER OF DAY IN COMPANY A

Recognition Given To Faithful Officers of Local Unit

Announcement was made today of the promotion of Captain Sherwood Dixon of Co. A, 129th Infantry, Illinois National Guard, to the office of Regimental Adjutant and Intelligence Officer; the elevation of First Lieutenant August W. Wimpelberg to the captaincy and the promotion of Second Lieutenant Wayne K. Wolfe to the First Lieutenant, the change in the personnel of the officers being ordered of Adjutant General Carlos E. Black, with the approval of the War Department. The changes became effective May 5 but announcement was withheld pending receipt of the new commissions from the Adjutant General's office.

Captain Dixon has been tireless in his efforts to provide this city with a militia company of high rating, and in this he has been highly successful. His ability has been duly recognized by both state and national militia officials and in addition to his other duties, he holds the position of secretary to the Illinois Army board. Through his efforts as a member of this body, Dixon has received the location of one of the finest armories to be built in Illinois, which is now under construction on Everett street and when completed will house Company A.

Assumed Command In '28 Dixon assumed command of Company A when the organization was transferred to Dixon in May, 1928, and retained that position until May 4.

His prior military service began with his enlistment in the United States Army on May 13, 1917. During the war he served as a sergeant in the 332nd infantry with the A. E. F. in England, France and Italy, and with the Army of Occupation in Austria and Jugoslavia. He was discharged May 3, 1919 to accept a commission as Second Lieutenant of Infantry, O. R. C. Following demobilization he remained in the Officer's Reserve Corps as Second Lieutenant and First Lieutenant until May, 1928.

The New Captain Capt. Wimpelberg was First Sergeant of Co. A when organized in 1928. Promoted to Second Lieutenant in September, 1928, he served in this position until February, 1929, when he was promoted to a First Lieutenant.

His previous military service was in the United States Army. In 1911 he went to the Philippine Islands where he served three years and at the expiration of this service, he enlisted in the United States Marine Corps, A. E. F., serving from July 1917 to June, 1919.

He feels honored in being selected to command Company A at the present time because of the beautiful armory which is now being constructed on West Everett street which will become the permanent

Children's Day Episode VIII Of Church Pageant

In the Centennial pageant, Sunday, May 16, the children's day episode is full of action and color and will follow the World War episode.

The girls who drill have put in hours of practice and their formations are lovely. With gay festooning they form a background for the tots who represent the flowers and birds.

These young actors were chosen from the primary and intermediate departments of the Sunday school for the First Methodist church.

The drill includes Patricia Weiss, Sara Hasselberg, Sylvia Heckman, Joan Ruben, Betty Martin, Dorothy Oids, Kathleen Moore, Alma Jane Herridge, Mary Jane Hardy, Elaine Fisher, Jean Brown, Audrey Popma.

Birds are Jimmy Hinkle, Gordon Bennett, Jimmy Slagle, Raymond Rhodes, Ronald Cook, Wayne Thomas, Donald Sproul, Russell Rhodes.

The pages as well as the ushers of the evening will be in period costumes. Miss Anne Ackert and Miss Elaine Mueller will serve in us capacity. Another touch which will be appreciated by the audience will be the march of the Christian soldiers led by Jack Cadie, popular young drum major and Sterling Schrock, Jr., bearing a huge white banner.

Fred Bovey whose name was omitted in the cast list of Episode V, published Monday evening, will represent the soldier volunteer of 1917. The Sunday school group in Episode VIII will have their final rehearsal on Friday evening at 6 o'clock.

Lievan School Has Closing Exercises Awards Presented

Lievan school, district No. 31, South Dixon township closed a successful year Tuesday with its annual picnic.

Over fifty parents, friends and children did justice to a delicious scramble dinner at noon with plenty of ice cream for all. No special program was held for the closing day since the pupils and their teacher, Mrs. Ray Herbert, recently held a program and box social which gave their school a neat sum to be used.

Honorable mention is due the following children: Pin for 30 months perfect attendance was given to Hazel Heaton. Certificate for perfect attendance the last year to Lester and Hazel Heaton. Those who had a perfect attendance record the past months were Raymond Levan, Lester Heaton, Dorothy Levan, Jean Hinrichs, Hazel Heaton, Keith Kingdon, and Fred Prendergast.

Spelling awards were given to the following: Raymond Levan, Lloyd Heaton, Betty Thomas, Naomi Bollman, Lester Heaton, Philip Bollman, Emogene Pinegar, Keith Kingdon, Dorothy Levan, Jean Hinrichs, Hazel Heaton and Leonard Wenzel.

Pre. Prendergast was awarded a library pin. Library awards were given to Keith Kingdon, Philip Bollman, Lester Heaton, Emogene Pinegar, Jean Hinrichs, Lloyd Heaton, and Raymond Levan.

Special mention for superior scholarship is due to Hazel Heaton, Jean Hinrichs, Keith Kingdon, Philip Bollman and Lester Heaton. Three graduated this year. They were Leonard Denzel, Jean Hinrich and Hazel Heaton.

In spite of a cloudy, rainy day a ball game was enjoyed in the afternoon. All present had an enjoyable day. Mrs. Ray Herbert has been engaged to teach again next year.

ST. JAMES LADIES AID SOCIETY MET WEDNESDAY

The May meeting of the St. James Ladies Aid society was held at the home of Mrs. Anna Cramer on Wednesday. There were 17 members and one visitor and seven children present to enjoy the delicious picnic dinner at noon. At 2 o'clock the president, Mrs. Pitzer called the meeting to order by every one singing, "The Church in the Wildwood." She then read from the first chapter of Luke, verses 31-47, followed with prayer by Edith Bothe. The reading of the last meeting and roll call was given by the secretary. The treasurers report was given, showing bills having been paid. The meeting closed with the Lord's prayer after which the following program was enjoyed:

Piano solo by Ruth Rosbrook; contest by Irma Bette; duet by Doris and Jennie John; game by Frances Hartzell.

The June meeting will be at the Mrs. Ruth Rosbrook home with the following on the program: Louise Odenthal, Anna John, Emma Pitzer, Gertrude Bremer. Everyone thanked the hostess, Mrs. Cramer, for the wonderful time they had at her home and all departed for their homes.

DAILY HEALTH

By DR. IAGO GALDSTON

Nutrition and Disease

The belief is widespread that certain vitamins and foods may be properly called anti-infective or anti-disease agents. Increasing knowledge of the relationship of nutrition to disease has shown that this notion is untrue. There are no anti-infective agents properly so called.

To begin with, it is questionable whether good nutrition, of and by itself, can protect one against contracting any of the infectious diseases. It is much more likely that good nutrition influences the course of the disease, once it is developed, and promotes a favorable outcome.

In this light, we may consider all the elements that enter into good nutrition as having a good effect upon "resistance to disease."

Special attention has been centered on the individual's need for an adequate intake of vitamin A. This is the so-called fat-soluble vitamin found abundantly in milk and milk foods, in the yolk of eggs, in certain fish oils and in the form of carotin, in the yellow vegetables. Lack of this vitamin, it has been shown, results in a degenerative change in the cells of the mucous membranes. This change renders the membranes less efficient in keeping bacteria from invading the body.

Since quite a number of the infectious diseases develop "by way" of the respiratory tract, the emphasis which has been laid upon the necessity for taking in an adequate supply of this vitamin appears warranted. However, again the warning must be issued not to draw the conclusion that vitamin A is either an infective or the anti-infective vitamin.

When nutritional deficiencies are of a marked character, as in starvation, famine or grossly inadequate dietetic practices, we are likely to find resistance to disease in general feeble. Certain disease conditions may be more prevalent than others, but in addition to those morbid conditions specifically due to the malnutrition proper, the victim is an easy mark for whatever disease is about.

There is a study on record of two East African tribes. One tribe ate mostly cereals, while the other lived chiefly on eat, milk and raw blood. The environmental conditions of both tribes were practically identical. The first tribe, whose diet was inadequate, was by far the sicker, and showed many more hospital admissions.

DOVE OF PEACE HOVERING OVER ANGELUS TEMPLE

Various Law Suits Are Settled Out of Court Attorneys State

Los Angeles, May 11—(AP)—The dove of peace fluttered today over the erstwhile-embattled evangelists, Aimee Semple McPherson and Rhea Crawford Spilva.

Attorneys for the former "Angel of Broadway" were ready to move for dismissal of her $1,080,000 slander suit against Mrs. McPherson, pastor of Angelus Temple. Agreement on a cash settlement was reached out of court last night.

The case was "amicably adjusted in deference to the earnest solicitation of the Christian ministry," the opposing attorneys announced in a joint statement. A delegation of ministers previously had urged the evangelists to settle their differences privately, if possible.

Miss Crawford's suit charged Mrs. McPherson had accused her falsely of trying to control the Temple and of being the mistress of a high state official.

Cash adjustment of Miss Crawford's breach of contract claim as co-pastor of Angelus Temple was agreed upon. The contract had fixed her salary at $600 a month for two years. The settlement also disposed of a $43,311 damage suit filed by the Temple against Miss Crawford on the ground that her criticisms had caused it financial loss.

Those convicted were Mrs. Edna Sulli, Mrs. Rose Amore, Clement Amore, her husband; Mrs. Nancy Delmonaco, Mrs. Dorothy Berger, Mrs. Kate Palda, Barney Siegel, John Zittello, and Sanders Carevello.

The defendants, with the exception of Clement Amore, were released on $5000 bonds pending hearing of motions for new trials May 17. Amore's bond was fixed at $10,000 and he was taken into custody for lack of the guarantee.

Nine Convicted Of Election Frauds

ANOTHER MAN NOT FOR SALE

While the bidding is going on for votes for the packing of the supreme court of the United States with judges who already have decided the cases to come before them, Col. Scott W. Lucas of Havana, Ill., gives notice that his vote as a member of the house of representatives is not for sale.

He is the second Democratic member of the house from Illinois to give such notice, the first having been Representative Chester C. Thompson, who early said he was opposed to the measure.

Representative Lucas is comparatively new in congress, being the successor to Speaker Henry T. Rainey in the Carrollton district, but he is not new to public service. He was a soldier. He has been commander of the Illinois department of the American Legion. He has served four terms as judge advocate of the Legion, having been first elected in the Paris convention in 1927. He was made chairman of the Illinois tax commission under appointment by Governor Horner.

It was in connection with his affiliation with the American Legion that Colonel Lucas made his declaration. It was in anticipation of the meeting of the executive committee last week in Indianapolis. He said there was ample precedent for the Legion to enter the argument on the side of an independent court. As long ago as 1922, about when LaFollette was beginning agitation of his proposal that the congress be allowed to override decisions of the supreme court, the Legion in convention at New Orleans adopted a resolution protesting against allowing congress to exercise judicial power now vested in the supreme court.

"This resolution was tempered with unusual firmness for the continuation of the independence of the three branches of our government," said Representative Lucas. "It is indeed significant that such a doctrine should have been so forcibly expressed some fifteen years ago. The records fail to disclose any delegate to that convention challenging the resolution as a violation of the political restriction clause of the Legion's constitution."

In 1927 the American Legion in its Paris convention adopted a resolution declaring:

"We denounce and condemn any effort, direct or indirect, which seeks by other than constitutional means to weaken, change, or subvert the constitution of the United States."

There's going to be an accounting some day on this matter of barter of votes for governmental favors in order to destroy the supreme court as an independent institution. The showing is going to be all in favor of the men who have declared themselves as not on the bargain counter.

Besides that, a member of congress is going to have to live with himself hereafter, and some of them are going to find themselves uncomfortable in the presence of themselves as ex-congressmen.

DIRIGIBLE TRAGEDY

While investigators probe into the ruins of the Hindenburg at Lakehurst, workmen are engaged in building another airship of the same type in Germany.

While many persons may have their doubts about human ability to build a safe aircraft of the Zeppelin type, there is no room for doubt about man's determination to keep trying.

In some ways a dirigible is safer than a craft of the heavier-than-air type. The Hindenburg made use of Diesel engines which burn fuel oil rather than high test gasoline. Distillate will not explode, while gasoline is a hazard anywhere. Zeppelins, being lighter than air will not come to the ground immediately upon engine failure, as an airplane must do.

Two kinds of gas are available for providing a dirigible's buoyancy. Hydrogen gas, with which the Hindenburg was inflated, is highly explosive. Helium gas, which nature produces only in the United States, is non-explosive. A dirigible using Diesel engines and helium gas should be about the safest aircraft imaginable in regard to explosions.

But the dirigible has serious disadvantages. It is subject to terrific stresses during high winds, and several have been wrenched apart in storms. We do not remember at this instant of any airplane being destroyed by lightning, but dirigibles have met that fate. The Zeppelin type of craft is hard to handle on landing and taking off on windy days.

The Graf Zeppelin and the Hindenburg had made such good records on trans-Atlantic voyages that most of us had begun to hope the German technicians had solved the problem of construction, although those who knew the dangers inherent in hydrogen gas knew the perils involved in every trip. The Graf's years of voyages to South America had become an old story.

If the Hindenburg had been inflated with helium gas there would have been no explosion and no fire. The net gain, in experimentation with dirigibles to date, seems to be in regard to construction of the framework. If the German engineers have succeeded in building a hull strong enough for practical purposes, then the answer to the dirigible riddle is helium gas. That ships of the German type seem strong enough seems reasonably well demonstrated.

Legislation permitting export of helium gas in commercial quantities has been approved at Washington.

If we are going to carry on a trans-Atlantic air business with the Germans, we may as well make it possible for them to buy helium gas from us.

NO SOCIAL SECURITY FOR TEACHERS

Dr. Garry C. Meyers calls attention to the fact that the social security law took no account of the teacher in the public school, except as a pauper.

The most that can be said for the so-called social security legislation hurriedly jammed through congress on order of the president is that it is another experiment, "noble in purpose."

It was a patchwork of age pensions, unemployment insurance and industrial pensions.

The farmer and the farmhand contribute to the pensions of others, but they contribute nothing to pensions for themselves. The woman who works in a home for wages contributes to the pensions of women who work in factories, but she has nothing ahead except as a pauper.

The day laborers of the small cities and villages who go here and there on call, who are the persons in real need of security, who contribute to the security of the rest of us in industrial plants, are passed by.

On the whole our "social security" gives to those who have and takes away from him that hath not even that which he hath.

Brain Twizzlers

By PROF. J. D. FLINT

By PROF. J. D. FLINT

Mr. J. J. Jones, president of the J. J. Jones Jumbo Jam Corporation, usually arrives at the suburban train station near his home at 4 P. M. At that time his chauffeur is at the station and Mr. Jones is driven straight home by the one route possible.

One day Mr. Jones completed his day's work early and took an earlier train, arriving at the suburban station at 3:00 P. M. He decided to start walking home. On the way he was met by the chauffeur, who had not known Mr. Jones would be on an earlier train, and was driven home from that point. Mr. Jones arrived home twenty minutes earlier than his customary time. Allowing no time for such incidentals as turning the car around, etc., what time did the chauffeur meet Mr. Jones as he was walking home?

This problem has no trick wording or "catch" of any kind. It can be worked out on a logical basis which simply requires your concentrated thought.

• Night and day, every day, the most willing workmen on the farm are electrical appliances, ready to bring countless advantages, endless hours of leisure to the home that has electricity. And the wages for their work is the lowest per job of any labor you can name.

Hundreds of home and farm appliances are operated by electricity. Work that formerly took hours to do by hand can now be done in minutes. The supply of light, electricity's first obligation, is just as important today as it ever was. Perhaps even more so, since the development of the Better Sight Lamps that guard precious sight by furnishing the correct type of light for every seeing task. Laundrying now becomes an almost automatic operation in the modern washing machine. Water heating, water pumping, can be forgotten when electricity takes over the job. Food, properly preserved in an electric refrigerator, is safer, more wholesome, more healthful than ever before. Cooking on an electric range is clean, convenient and economical, and assures perfect results every time. And around the farm, dozens of jobs—milking, feed grinding, and others—are done faster, more efficiently than ever. A small electric motor can do the work of a dozen hired hands... at a cost that is amazingly low.

Electrical appliances bring you health, comfort, and happiness. You are invited to see these appliances at your Illinois Northern Utilities Company sales floor. We will gladly demonstrate them to you and explain how easy it is to own and operate them.

followed the President's cruiser Indianapolis from Rio de Janeiro to Buenos Aires. On the day he arrived in the Argentine capital, 60 Brazilian navy planes and 60 Brazilian army planes darkened the Argentine sky.

For the first time Argentines became aware of the fighting air force of their northern neighbor. Within 15 days thereafter President Justo asked Congress for record-breaking appropriations to build an Argentine air force.

As a result, Argentine airplane purchases in the United States have been topping that of any other country. During March alone planes valued at $2,209,274 were delivered to Argentina. Thirty-five giant bombers costing $120,000 each have been ordered.

The fact that these bombers are capable of crossing the Andes—loaded—has worried the Chileans, and they too have sent an aviation mission to the United States.

Not to be outdone, Brazil also has come into the picture, taking delivery on $250,000 of American airplanes last month.

SET CORNER STONE OF EINSTEIN THEORY

THE world-stirring theory of relativity that Albert Einstein evolved years ago was founded, in part, on work of the great Dutch scientist, Hendrik Antoon Lorentz.

This was what scientists refer to as the "Lorentz transformation" in which Lorentz pointed to the effect of motion on all kinds of objects and phenomena.

Yet this great discovery was a minor part of the Dutch scientist's work. With his pupil, Pieter Zeeman, he worked out an explanation of the widening of the spectral lines in sunspots, on the basis of a magnetic field in the sun. And his most notable achievement was his standardization of the knowledge and theory about electrons.

Lorentz, born in 1853, studied and then became professor of physics at the University of Leiden. He received the Nobel Prize in physics in 1902 and later won other scientific awards. He knew several languages and became a leader in international affairs. After the World War he was made president of the Committee on Intellectual Co-operation of the League of Nations. He died in 1928.

The Netherlands in 1928 issued a stamp portraying the famous scientist.

ATHLETICS IN TOP POSITION WITH INDIANS

Yet Only One Hurler Has Seen Major Competition

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

All but one of their winning pitchers are strangers to the major leagues; in only three of their 14 games has a starting pitcher finished—yet today the Philadelphia Athletics remain deadlocked with the Cleveland Indians at the head of the American league.

While the Indians were winning their fifth straight yesterday, 6-5, because Manager Joe Cronin of the Red Sox heaved a double play ball wild in the seventh inning, the A's kept step by turning back the Detroit Tigers, 9-5.

The victory was the second for Luther Thomas.

Defeat for the Tigers, their third in a row though Gerald Walker extended his hitting streak to 16 games, combined with the Yankees' 7-0 shutout of the White Sox as Monte Pearson hurled the first one-hit game of the season, brought the two into a tie for third place.

Injury to Dickey

The only disturbing note to the Yankees came was an injury to Catcher Bill Dickey. Hit in the arm by a pitched ball, the hard-hitting receiver may be out for two weeks.

Julio Bonetti shut out the Senators with two hits for eight innings, was clipped for three hits and as many runs in the ninth, but lasted to lift the Browns out of the cellar with a 6-3 triumph, his first of the year.

The Pirates kept up their terrific pace in the National league. Bill Swift's eight-hit six-strikeout, no-bases-on-balls pitching set back the Bees, 4-1, made it three straight for the Bucs and four successive whalings for Boston.

Van Mungo stopped the Cardinals dead with four hits and so inspired his Dodger mates that they played errorless ball for the first time this season and stole five bases to win, 8-2. Bucky Walters tamed the Reds with four hits as the Phillies came out of a four-game losing streak with a 10-3 triumph over Cincinnati, and Clyde Shoun, with home run assistance from Aussie Galan and Ripper Collins, pitched the Cubs to a 4-3 decision over the Giants.

Here and There In Sports World

By Eddie Brietz

New York, May 11.—(AP)—An old familiar headline appeared in an Ogden, Utah, paper the other day. It read: "Mathewson Turns in Fine Game". The kid tossed for the Lewis junior high school nine at Ogden. Sure, they call him "Christy". Those Dodgers—player and directors—continue to pull fast ones. A day or so ago the front office announced Outshipped to Jersey City. Three hours later Wilson was sent in to pinch hit against the Cubs. (Yeah, same old Dodgers). North Carolina's new gym, seating 5,000 will be ready when the New York University cagers open the season against the Tar Heels January 15.

John Henry Lewis began training for Patsy Perroni yesterday at Doc Bier's camp at Pompton Lakes, N. J. They're trying to polish up big Jack Torrance at the same spot. John Simonaitis, who captains the Syracuse footballers and baseballers, wears spectacles when he performs at first base, but throws 'em away when he pulls on his head gear and pitches in the guard. New York writers say the old Gas House Gang ain't what it used to be. Only Joe Medwick, Frisch, Durocher and Pepper Martin remain of the original cast. The Danville Leafs of the Bi-State league got hot with the opening gong and won 10 in a row. Five of the regulars are under 20 years old.

That tonsil operation didn't help the Joe Di Maggio situation much. He's hitting hard but still having throwing trouble and the Yankees are worried. Russ Peters, young infielder, who made the Athletics via Washington & Lee and wayside stops, is drawing kind words from Coach Lena Blackburne. In seven years of high school, college and A. U. running, Eulace Peacock, Temple star, figures he has run more than 75 miles in regular meets and broad jumped more than two miles. Lloyd Lewis, sports editor of the Chicago Daily News, must think pretty well of the Cards' chance.

Ten Members Of Little 19 Form New Conference

Bloomington, Ill., May 11.—(AP)—Ten members of the Illinois intercollegiate (Little 19) conference voted at a closed meeting here yesterday to withdraw and organize a new league.

The freshman rule, often a point for argument among conference members in the past, assertedly caused the split.

Those withdrawing were: Illinois Wesleyan, Bradley, Millikin, North Central, Wheaton, Augustana, Illinois College, Lake Forest, Monmouth and Knox.

All voted to enforce strictly the freshman ruling.

Organization of the new conference, members said, will take place at a meeting at Monmouth, March 21.

Steele Vows He'll Silence Critics, Also Battaglia

Seattle, May 11.—(AP)—Fred Steele, world's middleweight boxing champion, vowed today he would silence eastern critics by trouncing Frankie Battaglia, a tough Minneapolis fighter, in a 15-round title bout here tonight.

Steele declared he was aroused by written opinions that "he doesn't look like a champ."

"I'll make them eat those words," said Steele as he shook the good right fist he had ready to stuff into Battaglia's face. The challenger was substituting for Ken Overlin of Richmond, Va., who became ill after arriving in Seattle for the bout.

Despite the fact that Steele was a 2 to 1 favorite, Battaglia, insisted he had a 50-50 chance to win.

Promoter Nate Druzman who guaranteed Steele $17,500 or 50 per cent of the gate, and Battaglia 15 per cent of the proceeds, said he expected close to a $40,000 sell-out of the 9,000 seats.

Glenn Cunningham Enters Twilight Games Tomorrow

New York, May 11.—(AP)—Glenn Cunningham, happy warrior of middle distance running, returns to New York scene of some of his mightiest triumphs for the three-quarter mile run, which will feature the first annual twilight games of the 69th Regiment A. A. tomorrow night.

Gene Venzke, Glenn's persistent shadow, Luigi Becali, the Italian Olympic 1,500 meter champion in 1932, and Joe McLuskey, the New York A. C. warhorse, will oppose Cunningham. Becali, who has campaigned with some success since arriving here last winter, should be the Kansas' strongest competitor.

The other top field of the meet has been gathered for the 100-yard dash with Ben Johnson, national and intercollegiate indoor titleholder, Eulace Peacock of Temple, a brilliant performer indoors this winter, and Bob Rodenkirchen of the New York A. C. competing.

Without its long hind claws, the skylark would sink helplessly into the tall grass in which it makes its home.

D. H. S. Track Team Invades Rochelle This Afternoon

Coach Arthur C. Bowers Purple and White harriers who suffered their first defeat in the northwest district meet at Rockford, invaded Rochelle today for another N. C. I. conference dual match.

The meet will be the first held on Rochelle's new field, and represents the first dual meet between Dixon and Rochelle in track. On the basis of their previous performance Dixon is favored to win and remain on top of the conference standings. Rochelle downed Mendota last week and will be a dangerous customer.

FELLER CRAMS FOR HIS EXAMS

Bashful Mound Star Gets Big Welcome By Home Folks

Van Meter, Ia., May 11.—(AP)—Bob Feller, 18-year-old baseball idol of thousands of American youngsters, intended to ride an orange and black Van Meter Consolidated school bus again today.

The Cleveland Indians' bashful, unspooled sensation was back at his farm home from the major leagues to get his high school diploma.

Before the graduation exercises Friday night Bob must take examinations in physics, psychology, literature and history.

Following a custom of many years, the farm boy planned to hop into the school bus which makes his route and travel with his schoolmates to the neat appearing schoolhouse at the edge of Van Meter.

Bob admitted he had a little "cramming" to do for the examinations.

"I can't figure out which will be tougher—facing Lou Gehrig or taking that physics exam."

Bob came home from Cleveland by plane late yesterday. He was given a rousing welcome by 600 persons, including his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Feller, at the Des Moines municipal airport. A police squadron escorted the Feller party through Des Moines downtown district and over the 16 miles to Van Meter.

"Gosh it's good to see you mom," was his greeting to his mother after giving her a big hug and a kiss. He shook hands warmly with his beaming father.

REX MAYS HEADS CHICAGO AUTO RACE PROGRAM

Chicago, May 11.—An entry list of 14 pilots, headed by Rex Mays, California star of the dirt tracks, was announced last night by Jack Stockholm as the first filing of drivers for the inaugural motor race program at the Fair Grounds next Sunday. This early list will be augmented during the week by probably 30 more drivers who are preparing for the annual 500-mile auto classic at Indianapolis on Memorial Day.

The list of entries in the race to date includes Rex Mays, Bob Sall, Wild Man McGurk, Pete Romervich, Kenny Fowler, Cowboy O'Rourke, Emil Andres, Chuck Neisel and Ted Johnson.

Mays, Sall, McGurk, Fowler, Brisco, Gardner, Horn Johnson, Snyder, Andres, and Romervich have already contracted to ride the Indianapolis race and next week will be at the Hoosier speedway qualifying their cars for the big classic.

Promoter Stockholm, who visited the Indianapolis driving colony Sunday, reported much interest among the pilots and car owners in the new Fair Grounds track and predicted that the program next Sunday would attract at least 40 drivers to the plant at River Road and North avenue.

Weather conditions now can be the only obstacle to the success of the opening program. The calcium chloride treatment for dust control has been completed on the track under the supervision of experts and Track Superintendent Mike Rodak reports that with fair weather the oval will be ready for record-breaking time.

The entry of Mays proves that the finest driving talent in the country will be on hand when the first flag drops to send the field away and with the 1935 national champion riding there will be many of his old rivals on dirt tracks throughout the country battling it out in another season of dazzling speed and cold nerve.

The Chicago Motor club where reservations are being made for the inaugural program reports a heavy demand for box and grandstand seats.

News of Interest to Community Farmers

Chats About Folks and Farming By the Farm Editor

The meticulously accurate Chicago Tribune told in a recent article of the "roosters" on the speaking program at a civic dinner in Kan-kakee. We imagine there is considerable satisfaction having a few roosters on the roster of any civic organization. It assures the necessary amount of crowing regardless of the outcome of any civic undertaking.

John A. Lamb of Platt county, Illinois, recently received the Wilson trophy as the best all around livestock judge enrolled at the college of agriculture. He is a junior.

When a Farm Bureau affiliate begins competing with a farm cooperative what are the farmers who are members of both groups going to do?

Iowa state college of agriculture urges necessity of fertilizing drouth-weakened fruit trees to assure a good crop this year.

Miss Lillian V. Schier of Oregon, 1936 county champion in the national 4-H food preparations contest, will seek state honors in this year's contest, she announces.

The picnic season is just around the corner and Miss Evelyn Smith of the home economics department of the college of agriculture, points out that keeping the picnic kit in readiness saves hurry at the last minute and the embarrassment of forgetting. It is quite disconcerting when the can-opener is forgotten and the tin of sardines has to be opened with the teeth.

When you hear father complaining of a backache at this season you can be assured that mother has asked him to spade the flower garden.

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America has selected Martin J. Warren of Iowa City, Ia., as national 4-H Holstein club boy for 1936 on the basis of the reports of his achievements as club member in Holstein-Friesian calf club work. He was chosen as the Iowa state champion, and now in competition with other state champions, has been awarded the gold medal national champion. Rose Lena Anderog of Clackamas, Ore., has been named national champion 4-H Holstein club for 1936 in competition with state champion girls from other states. Rose has completed seven years' of club work with Holsteins and during that time has twice been awarded Oregon 4-H Holstein club championships. She also gets a gold medal.

Paw Paw implement dealers, who took in a considerable number of horses as part payment on tractors and kept the animals through the winter, are beginning to ship them out. Maybe the horse market is perking up.

Potato growers are being told that heavy rains during the winter and spring caused nitrates to be leached out of the soil and that more nitrogen will be necessary in the fertilizer this year.

The latest bulletin concerning the hoppers in this immediate locality is that with normal weather prevailing they will begin hatching about May 20 and will keep it up for about 30 days.

Harold L. Jepson, former assistant farm adviser of Winnebago county, is the new northern Illinois district 4-H club leader. He succeeds DeVeré Mummert, resigned.

According to Prairie Farmer, horse hair is being used in the manufacture of mattresses. This may explain why some folks have nightmares.

Farm Adviser Yale announces the Farm Bureau offices at Amboy will be open each Wednesday from 7 to 9:15 p. m., during the summer months to accommodate farmers unable to call during the day-time.

Lee county Home Bureau obtained 10 new members in its membership drive. Wyoming township is planning to organize a bureau unit.

Some 4-H club boys from Lee county will have an opportunity to attend summer camp at Camp Blackhawk, south of Rockford, during the week starting July 1. Twenty-five boys will go to camp in two groups. Applications should be filed early.

Lee county farmers wishing to enter this year's wool pool are advised they can make arrangements for the handling of their crop at the Farm Bureau office at Amboy.

Miss Martha Hensley, district 4-H club leader, will conduct a training school in subject matter for leaders of clothing clubs at the Home Bureau office at Princeton Monday, May 17, from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

The federal department of agriculture estimates grasshoppers last year destroyed crops valued at $99,131,000. Nothing more should be needed to induce Illinois farmers to join the war on the insects.

Farmers who have not applied for payment under the 1936 soil conservation program should get busy this week. Saturday is the last day to file their applications.

The American Society of Agricultural Engineers will meet at the college of agriculture at Urbana June 21-24.

Appointed as field man for the Guernsey organization of California, Arizona and Nevada is A. W. Telfer, who served seven years as field man for the Indiana-Illinois Guernsey Breeders' association.

Firemen were prevented from extinguishing a blaze on a California farm because the farmer's goats insisted on butting the fire ladders. The firemen now realize what it means to "get the farmer's goat."

The Perry county, Indiana, phone operator who has tied up an entire telephone system by a sit-down strike, apparently has no sympathy for party-line listeners.

Out of the receding floods in the Ohio valley have come swarms of Buffalo gnats to pester cattle on southern Illinois farms. Farmers these days seem to be kept pretty busy jumping from one bug to another.

We can imagine some of the Kansas boys—accustomed to imbibing raw alcohol—getting a thrill out of legal 3.2 beer.

"With the advent of newly made and planted gardens, the dogs in Oregon are enjoying a Roman holiday," says the editor of the Ogle County Republican. Maybe some windbreaks would help.

The farm editor of the Lee County Times suggests that now is the time to sharpen up the hoe and go after those Canadian thistles.

The Paw Paw 4-H club will meet May 15 at the home of Marjorie Rosenkrans.

Don't forget to put June 15 down as an open date for the black and white show in Dixon.

The I. N. U. plans to extend power line to serve farmers in Dixon, Ashton, Brooklyn, Viola, Bradford, Lee Center and Reynolds townships in Lee county and in Woosung and Monroe townships in Ogle county.

The Buffalo township unit of the Ogle county Farm Bureau will witness a play, "Everybody's Getting Married," at its monthly meeting in the Polo town hall Tuesday evening, May 11.

C. E. Bambror is one of the farmers near Polo using lights on his tractor to enable him to work in the fields nights.

If that pond in the west side of Oregon becomes much larger the village can qualify as a lake resort.

Clyde Fry, agricultural instructor in the Polo high school, will serve as chairman of one of the panel discussions at the college of agriculture summer school conference in Urbana July 13 to 16.

"The first farm plows were made of crooked tree branches and operated by man power," says an item in the Tri-County Press of Polo. It may be interesting to know that similar contraptions are used by the farmers of Ethiopia today.

A representative of an Iowa seed company has been conferring with farmers relative to establishing some hybrid seed corn fields in this locality.

Mount Morris women had an old-time costumes party the other day. Absent, however, was the automobile veil which women at one time considered essential for any motor tour in the country.

The Aurora Beach News published a picture last Friday of a young woman radio star who always removes her shoes and works at the mike in her stockings. Maybe the thing the radio listeners have been calling static is merely a case of crying corns on the feet of the broadcasters.

Wilbur R. Tammeus, assistant director of livestock marketing of the Illinois Agricultural association, told Lee and Ogle county farmers at their wool meetings that state growers of wool hope to raise the pool-volume this year to half a million pounds. In 1936 about 167,000 pounds of wool were pooled in Illinois. This was about 3 per cent of the wool total of the state last year.

There is no doubt that the solemn down at Springfield look upon proceeds of the sales tax as "pennies from Heaven."

The purebred Holstein herd owned by A. E. Edwards' estate, Dundee, Ill., finished its third year in the herd improvement test with the fine average of 11,951 pounds of 4 per cent milk and 481.9 pounds of butterfat. The herd of 18 cows was milked only twice daily throughout the year. According to government records, the average for dairy cows of the nation is about 160 pounds of butterfat per year.

We understand some daughters observed Mother's day in accordance with their usual custom—remaining in bed until mother had finished with the breakfast dishes.

Nearly everyone should have an iron constitution at this season. Experts say greens provide a lot of iron, and dandelions certainly are plentiful.

4-H CLUB GIRLS REGISTER FOR SUMMER CAMP

Applications Are Due By May 22 For June
Outing

Applications are being distributed now among 4-H club girls of Lee county who wish to participate in the summer camp at Camp Hauberg, on the Mississippi river, June 7 to 14 inclusive. Registrations must be made with the county home adviser by May 22. The camp fee is $4 for the three and a half-day period for each camp group, and $1 of this must be paid at the time of registration. The remainder is paid when the girls enter the camp.

Registration is limited to 4-H club girls from 10 to 20 years of age. The girls will be divided into two groups. The first group will enter camp Monday morning by 10:30 and leave camp Thursday afternoon, while the second group will go into camp Thursday afternoon and leave Monday morning after breakfast. In registering the girls may express a preference as to which camp period is convenient.

Camp Hauberg is located on the Mississippi river, two and one-half miles above Port Byron, on the historic Galena trail. There is a beautiful river front, with good drainage, a grove of shade trees and acres of virgin timber.

There is a well-equipped play community, including 15 permanent buildings, tennis court, courts for basketball, volleyball, paddle tennis, baseball fields, swimming and boating, craft shop, first aid building and museum. There are several cabins for sleeping. Meals are planned by a dietician, a nurse is on duty at the camp and a physician is on call. All activities are regulated with due consideration of the camper's physical ability. Sufficient life guards are provided to assure safe swimming.

Sharing the camp with 4-H club girls of Lee county will be groups of club girls from Bureau, White-side, Henry, Knox, Mercer and Rock Island counties. A staff of home advisers, 4-H club leaders and trained instructors will be present. There will be a counselor for every 10 girls in camp.

One of the requisites for acceptance is a health certificate dated not more than three days before the camp period begins.

Land Bank Policy Is Not Changed By Court Ruling

The policy of Federal Land banks is not affected by the supreme court decision upholding constitutionality of the Frazier-Lemke amendment to the bankruptcy act. The amendment provides that bankruptcy courts may declare a three-year moratorium when borrowers are unable to meet their obligations.

Gov. W. I. Meyers of the federal farm credit administration, pointed out the policy of the Federal Land banks in a brief statement, as follows:

"That policy has been that when the delinquent borrower is doing his level best to meet his payments and when no other covenants of the mortgage contract are being violated, the Land Banks make every effort to assist him through re-arrangement of the loan. To protect the banks from loss entailed by the pursuit of this equitable policy, Congress has provided them with paid-in surplus for defections and extensions. These are utilized upon the decision of the banks that the borrower is worthy of their application."

Farmers May Help In Flood Control

Floods are simply raindrops, indefinitely multiplied and concentrated quickly in a single channel. Department of agriculture flood control specialists say that vegetative and mechanical methods of decreasing run-off and soil erosion automatically contribute to flood control. Some of the outstanding methods which serve this double purpose are crop rotation, contour strip covering, terracing, contour tillage, check dams, grassed waterways, reforestation, controlled grazing and forest fires prevention.

OGLE CO. GROUP ENDS 15 YEARS OF HERD TESTS

Several Fine Averages Are Recorded In This Period

The Ogle County Dairy Herd Improvement association completed its fifteenth year of testing on March 31. During the fiscal year ending on that date 348 cows were tested averaging 264 cow years. These cows averaged 9,221 pounds of milk, 332 pounds of butterfat, with an average test of 3.6 per cent. The average production of the previous year was 9,227 pounds of milk and 335.9 pounds of fat.

The average value of the product for the last fiscal year was $135.59 per cow, average cost of feed $70.01, and the returns above feed averaged $65.58. Due to a higher price of product the return above feed cost per cow was $9.56 more than that of a year ago.

Carl Lund, tester for the Ogle county association, has provided some interesting data concerning the tests.

High Averages
The herds averaging per cow above 300 pounds B. F. are as follows:

J. W. Hemingway's herd of 7 R. H. averaged 11,431 pounds of milk and 431.9 pounds of fat.

Forrest Gillespie's herd of 9 R. H. averaged 11,834 pounds of milk and 424.0 pounds of fat.

Ralph R. Thomas' herd of 13 P. B. and G. H. averaged 11,957 pounds of milk and 421.4 pounds of fat.

John T. Cunningham's herd of 10 R. H. averaged 10,501 pounds of milk and 371.4 pounds of fat.

Lee M. Gentry's herd of 35 R. H. averaged 10,426 pounds of milk and 369.2 pounds of fat.

Elmer Hoover's herd of 11 R. H. averaged 9,800 pounds of milk and 376.1 pounds of fat.

Richard Magee's herd of 13 R. H. averaged 10,752 pounds of milk and 355.1 pounds of fat.

Ralph Pyse's herd of 13 P. B. and G. H. averaged 10,422 pounds of milk and 352.5 pounds of fat.

The herd owned by Ward & Brown averaged 8,844 pounds of milk and 337.9 pounds of fat. The herd consisted of 20 P. B. and G. H. cows.

Robert B. Lacher's herd of 13 P. B. and G. H. averaged 6,347 pounds of milk and 335.6 pounds of fat.

E. C. Grossnickle's herd of 20 P. B. and G. H. averaged 9,679 pounds of milk and 322.7 pounds of fat.

Percy Fruin's herd of 13 R. H. averaged 9,220 pounds of milk and 316.8 pounds of fat.

Outstanding Herd
This year's production record of 431.9 pounds B. F. marks the thirteenth consecutive year that the herd of J. W. Hemingway has produced an average above 400 pounds B. F. This herd has the outstanding average of 12,281 pounds of milk and 449.1 pounds of fat over the same period of time. A herd making a record such as this on 2-time milking and under average farm conditions may well merit the high regard for which it is held in the dairy herd improvement association. Mr. Hemingway's herd of 8 R. H. at the close of testing year included 6 first-lactation heifers which makes his record of this year more impressive.

Forrest Gillespie's herd ranked second with an average of 11,834 pounds of milk and 424.0 pounds of fat. This represents an increase of 1,292 pounds of milk and 45.1 pounds of fat over that of a year ago. Mr. Gillespie also has an enviable record as his herd has averaged for the six years that he has been a member of the Ogle county dairy herd improvement association over 400 pounds of butterfat a year.

Ralph R. Thomas' herd of 13 P. B. and G. H. averaged 11,957 pounds of milk and 421.4 pounds to place third. Mr. Thomas' record over a duration of 11 years also furnishes a true testimonial for continuous testing.

Ralph Pyse made the greatest increase in production as his herd bettered its previous year's record by 327.5 pounds of milk and 96.1 pounds of fat. Other herds showing marked gains were: John T. Cunningham, 732 pounds fat; Percy Fruin, 492 pounds fat; Forrest Gillespie, 541 pounds fat; Elmer Hoover, 411 pounds fat; and T. J. Matychowiak, 232 pounds fat.

A proved-sire record consists of the production records of five or more daughters of a sire and of the production records of the dams of the daughters compared to indicate the production capacity the sire transmits. Five such records were completed during the year. King Togo Posch, the herd sire owned by Lee M. Gentry, proved himself to be a capable transmitter as his daughters bettered their dams' records by 510 pounds of milk and 39 pounds fat. This included 10 daughter and dam comparisons based on 305-day lactation periods.

Stress Culling
Strict culling was emphasized during the year as 72 cows were sold for slaughter. This figure represents 21 per cent of all cows on test. The higher feed prices are partly responsible for this rigid culling as a cow must necessarily produce at a higher standard to remain in a profitable herd. The three high herds averaged $88 above feed cost per cow whereas the three lowest producing herds averaged only $41.60 per cow above feed cost.

The highest producing cow was a registered Holstein owned by T. J. Matychowiak which produced 15,020 pounds of milk and 511.9 pounds of fat on two-time milking. This cow showed a remarkable profit of $153.94 above feed cost. The second highest producing cow was a grade Holstein owned by Ralph R. Thomas which produced 15,155 pounds of milk and 505.8 pounds of fat also on two-time milking.

Thirty-eight cows produced over 400 pounds of fat during the year. Lee M. Gentry owning 9; Ralph R. Thomas, 6; Forrest Gillespie, 5; J. W. Hemingway, 3; T. J. Matychowiak, 3; John T. Cunningham, 2; E. C. Grossnickle, 2; Ward & Brown, 2; members having one were Ralph Pyse, Elmer Hoover, Richard Magee, Percy Fruin, Robert B. Lacher, and Lloyd Leary.

Keigwin Herds Tops Lee-Bureau Tests

A herd of 11 purebred and grade Holsteins owned by C. P. Keigwin, Jr., led the Lee-Bureau Dairy Herd Improvement association in April tests with 1,280 pounds of milk and 48.2 pounds of butterfat. The association average for last month was 736 pounds of milk and 28.9 pounds of butterfat with 272 cows on test from 25 herds.

Thirty-three of the cows on test were dry. During the month three unprofitable cows were culled and sold as beef. Seventy-two cows each produced more than 40 pounds of butterfat.

The five highest producing herds were:

1. A herd of 11 P. B. and G. H. owned by C. B. Keigwin, Jr., produced an average production of 1,280 pounds of milk and 48.2 pounds of fat. No dry cows.

2. A herd of 10 P. B. and G. H. owned by Dave Parsons & Son produced an average production of 1,282 pounds of milk and 47.0 pounds of fat. No dry cows.

3. A herd of 11 P. B. H. owned by Short & Johnson produced an average production of 1,191 pounds of milk and 43.5 pounds of fat. No dry cows.

4. A herd of 9 P. B. B. S. owned by Leonard Anderson produced an average of 1,034 pounds of milk and 43.0 pounds of fat. No dry cows.

5. A herd of 12 P. B. H. owned by Henry Albrecht produced an average of 1,017 pounds of milk and 38.6 pounds of fat. No dry cows.

Four highest cows producing over 60 pounds of fat:

1. A. G. H., owned by Dave Parsons producing 1,860 pounds of milk and 74.4 pounds of fat.

2. A. G. B. H., owned by Short & Johnson with 1,869 pounds of milk and 71.0 pounds of fat.

3. A. P. B. H. owned by C. B. Keigwin, Jr., producing 1,643 pounds of milk and 71.0 pounds of fat.

4. A. P. B. H. owned by L. E. Plumley producing 1,907 pounds of milk and 66.7 pounds of fat.

Cole & Donnelly Herd Leads in Lee April Tests

Cole & Donnelly, with a herd of 12 purebred Holsteins, led the Lee County Dairy Improvement association in the April tests with 1,422 pounds of milk and 45 pounds of butterfat. No cows of this herd were dry, according to the report of H. F. Folgate, association tester. There were 546 cows on test last month and the association average was 789 pounds of milk and 28 pounds of butterfat. The five high herds for April were:

1. Cole & Donnelly, 12 P. B. H., 1,422 pounds of milk and 45.0 pounds of fat. None dry.

2. Robert Mullins, 14 G. & P. B. J., 832 pounds of milk and 42.6 pounds fat. One dry.

3. Elmer R. Fulton, 10 G. & P. B. H., 1,283 pounds of milk and 40.2 pounds fat. None dry.

4. Harry Friedrichs, 14 G. & P. B. H., 1,001 pounds of milk and 36.2 pounds fat. None dry.

5. Otto Boehle, 13 G. & P. B. H., 1,032 pounds of milk and 36.1 pounds fat. None dry.

The ten high cows:

1. Robert, Mullins, G. J., 1,296 pounds milk, 75.2 pounds fat; 2. E. L. McCracken, P. B. H., 2,175 pounds milk, 69.6 pounds fat; 3. Robert Mullins, G. J., 1,083 pounds milk, 66.1 pounds fat; 4. Gleim Bros., Holstein, 1,506 pounds milk, 63.3 pounds fat; 5. L. A. Faivre & Son, P. B. H., 1,890 pounds milk, 60.5 pounds fat; 6. George Welty, P. B. H., 1,344 pounds milk, 60.5 pounds fat; 7. Henry Hey, G. G., 1,464 pounds milk, 58.6 pounds fat; 8. Cole & Donnelly, P. B. H., 1,524 pounds milk, 56.4 pounds fat; 9. Harry Friedrichs, P. B. H., 1,341 pounds milk, 56.3 pounds fat; 10. Robert Mullins, G. J., 1,092 pounds milk, 55.7 pounds fat.

VISIBLE GRAIN SUPPLY

New York, May 11—(AP)—The visible supply of American grain shows the following changes in bushels: Wheat decreased 2,655,000; corn decreased 387,000; oats decreased 1,117,000; rye decreased 136,000; barley decreased 395,000.

INBRED RESERVE IS NECESSARY FOR SEED SUPPLY

Drouths Disclose Weak
Chain in Hybrid
Corn Link

Drouths of 1934 and 1936 emphasized a weak spot in the system for supplying hybrid seed corn. Inbred lines that are the basis of the hybrids do not stand dry weather and heat. If drouth one year cuts down the production of inbreds, it lessens in the second year the supply of single-cross seed, and in the third year the supply of the double-cross seed which in the fourth year is used for field planting.

Fortunately, seed held over a year, if handled properly, usually is satisfactory for planting, making it desirable to hold over from year to year surplus seed of the inbred lines and crosses. Attempting merely to supply the demand for commercial seed may result in a shortage in unfavorable years.

A. A. Bryan of the United States department of agriculture and the Iowa experiment station estimates that with average weather it takes only about 14 acres to grow the inbred seed which multiplied in two crosses will supply enough double-cross seed to meet requirements of all the 9,000,000 acres of cornfields in Iowa.

But if bad weather injures the inbred plants in these plots—as drouths did in 1934 and 1936—the supply of hybrid seed corn in certain to be insufficient.

Washington Cow Sets Lifetime Butterfat Rate

Stellacom, Prilly Ormsby Blossom, a registered Holstein cow owned by the Western State hospital, Port Stellacom, Wash., has set a new lifetime record for milk and butterfat production and is still going strong at past 15 years of age.

According to M. B. Nichols of Portland, western field representative of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, up to about two weeks ago this cow had a total of 247,230 pounds of milk and 9,127.9 pounds of butterfat to her credit and during April, the sixth month of her present lactation period, she made 56 pounds of butterfat and barring accidents will add still further to her phenomenal record.

During her first three lactation periods she was tested in advance registry and her records as a junior three-year-old and a junior four-year-old still stand as records for those ages. Since then she has been on test continuously in the Pierce County Cow Testing association, except for half of one lactation, which is missing and for which she receives no credit.

Dr. W. N. Keller, superintendent of the hospital since 1914, is justly proud of the record-breaking performance of this great cow and he reports that during her lifetime she has given birth to 14 calves, including a set of twins. Ten of her calves were bulls and a number of them are in service in Washington state institution herds.

STATE FARMERS WORK OVERTIME TO PLANT CROPS

Springfield, Ill., May 11—(AP)—Illinois farmers are working overtime to get in their crops, Agricultural Statistician A. J. Surratt said today, as weather conditions improved after the backward, wet spring.

"Except in parts of southern Illinois fields were drying out rapidly over the weekend, following 10 to 20 days with field work at a complete standstill over most of the state due to wet fields," Surratt reported. "Subsoil moisture is now generally plentiful."

"Field work and some corn planting was under way Saturday in an area extending from the central third of the state on the east to the central three fourths on the west."

"The heaviest wheat abandonment, thin stands and varying wheat condition, is largely in the east central and to a lesser extent in the central counties. Elsewhere wheat condition is largely reported fair to good. Oats show even stands are getting off to a good start."

Hopper Chairmen Named in County

Although hoping weather conditions may check grasshopper infestation to some extent, Lee county farmers are preparing to give battle if necessary. Several township chairmen have been appointed to carry on the war, and others will be named soon. Those named to date are: Palmyra, Keith Swartz; Nelson, Roy Scholl; Harmon, Martin Oakland; South Dixon, Martin Dieterle; Marion, E. C. Morrissey; East Grove, Floyd Willey; Bradford, Julius Engelbrecht; Sublette, Henry Roemich; Viola, B. H. Koch; Alto, James Kirby; Willow Creek, Fred Durin; Wyoming, George Engelhart and Amboy, Forrest Robbins. Community action will be undertaken when found necessary to curb hopper infestation.

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER to POULTRY RAISERS

"The old idea that a chicken is a scavenger and can rustle for its own feed has no place in the modern poultry feeding program."

N. F. Waters of Iowa state college made that statement and I am passing it on to you because I think Mr. Waters knows what he is talking about. He says there are only two kinds of poultry rations—good and poor, and that even now, when grain is high, a poultryman cannot afford to feed a poor ration.

Everybody wants his chickens to grow and grow fast and wants his hens to lay a lot of eggs.

But you can't expect them to do it unless they have a good ration—one that is properly balanced. "A poor ration," Mr. Waters says, "may consist of the highest quality grains but if it is deficient often in only one ingredient it will not give the desired results."

There are still some people who think feedstuffs they wouldn't give other livestock "will do for the chickens."

They have the mistaken idea they're saving money. The truth is they're losing money because they aren't getting the growth or the number of eggs they would get if they provided a good ration.

Ration Important
Most people today use a good chick starter.

But many of those same people figure their responsibility for providing feed ends there and that when the chickens are six or eight weeks old they're big enough to get out and scratch around for themselves.

There's no question, of course, that they will pick up enough to keep going. But they won't grow fast. And that's how you make money—by putting weight on cockerels as rapidly as possible and getting them ready for market early.

It's going to be a bigger temptation than usual this summer to let the chickens rustle for themselves.

But if you will stop to think about it and perhaps do a little figuring with your feed dealer or your produce man, I am sure you will decide the feed that produces results is the least expensive.

HOFFMAN PICKS COMMITTEES FOR BIG HOMECOMING

Full Day Arranged By Junior Association For Old Residents

Committees were named by Fred Hoffmann, general chairman for the Homecoming celebration in Dixon, Monday, July 5 at a meeting of the Junior Association of Commerce held at the Rainbow Inn, Monday night, the meeting being preceded by a supper.

General plans for the first major event to be sponsored by the Junior Association, were outlined by Hoffmann. He told the group that the Chicago Dixon club consisting of 500 members has chartered a special train which will leave Chicago early Monday morning, July 5, and arrive in Dixon at about 8:30 A. M. At that time the special will be switched onto the I. C. spur down to River street where it will remain all day and leave again for Chicago at 10 P. M.

Plan Reception

Plans call for a gigantic reception at the train on River street at which time it is hoped the Dixon Municipal band can be secured for a short welcome concert. Cars will await the guests from Chicago and other Homecoming guests and former residents to transport them for a short tour of the city. Following this tour the group will be taken to Assembly park for lunch, to be followed by an afternoon of sports and entertainment.

In the evening a mammoth fireworks display is contemplated, which all surrounding communities are invited to attend, the fireworks concluding a day crammed with fun and reunion for all residents and former residents of Dixon and persons of surrounding towns.

C. of C. To Assist

The huge celebration will be the first of its proportions here in many years. The Junior Association will be assisted in an advisory capacity by members of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce and the Dixon Merchant's Association. Several members of the Chamber of Commerce will serve as advisers on the Junior Association committees but will have no active part in forwarding the plans.

The committees named to serve in preparing the celebration are as follows:

Finance

Transportation

John Cornwell, chairman; Don Rosserans, Earl Weber, Warren Badger, Lyle Myers, George Netiz, adviser.

Publicity and Advertising

Jack Fritzen, chairman; Charles Ross, Ken Detweiler, Robert Gross, Robert Eno, Chester Barriage, Robert Jones will advise this group.

Food

D. Montgomery, chairman; Carl Plowman, Wallace Plock, Clyde Yount, Ken Haines, Peter O'Malley, William Mooney, Hal Roberts and Swag Wilhelm will be adviser.

Reception and Registration

Courtney Ryan, chairman; James Ketchin, William Hanson, Mayor William V. Slothower and Chief of Police J. D. Van Bibber are senior advisers.

Entertainment

Robert Eno, chairman; Joe Judge, Richard Belcher, Leo Miller, James Ketchin, Kenneth Moll, James Campbell, Henry Wieman. Advisers will be Harry Beard, Joe Eichler and Victor Eichler.

WINDSOR WITH-DRAWS TO DEEPEST SECLUSION

Monts. France, May 11—(AP)—The Duke of Windsor, who would have been crowned King of England tomorrow had he not abdicated for love of Mrs. Wallis Warfield, withdrew into strictest seclusion today so no shadow would fall on the coronation of his brother-successor, King George VI.

English correspondents were informed by their London offices the Duke had appealed to them to omit his name as much as possible from the reports of the coronation events. At the Chateau de Candé, near here, where he is visiting with his fiancée he declined to pose for photographs.

Windsor's earnest desire to see his brother's coronation a full success was understood to have caused his decision.

He spent some time last night, it was reported, composing a special coronation message of good wishes and loyalty to King George, once his subject, now his sovereign.

Announcement of the wedding plans of Windsor and Mrs. Warfield is being withheld until May 17, when it is expected generally Windsor will make known their plans.

To make the smoke more pungent, certain Eskimos place a tiny piece of dog's hair at the bottom of the pipe bowl. A piece of dog's skin attached to the pipe stem to make the hair available.

The chief materials used in bridge construction today are carbon steel, alloy steels, concrete, and masonry.

INTEREST FOR COERCION USED IN SCHOOL NOW

Find Creative Work Eliminates Need Of Discipline

Peoria, Ill., May 11—(AP)—Substitution of student-interest for coercion in American schools was noted in an address prepared for delivery today before the 42nd annual convention of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs.

C. E. Ertmeyer, professor of education at North Central college, Naperville, Ill., said "It is only in recent decades that an attitude of interest on the part of the learner has been regarded as a most favorable condition of learning."

In earlier periods, he continued, the teacher "put his faith in fear and coercion, and the symbol of the teacher's authority was the ever-present switch and rod."

Tonight the keynote address will be given by Judge Fred G. Bale of Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. Edward J. Lehman of Sidney, president of the federation, opened the three-day conference with a gavel wielded by the late Speaker Henry T. Rainey in the 73rd congress of the United States.

Other first day speakers included Mrs. Jefferson D. Atwood, general federation chairman, department of American citizenship, and Dr. P. R. McIntosh, art director of Bradley Polytechnic Institute.

AUTO DRIVERS' LICENSE BILL IS DISCUSSED

Action by Law Makers Delayed 24 Hours for Conference

Springfield, Ill., May 11—(AP)—Action on the controversial drivers' license bills was postponed another 24 hours in the house today to permit Governor Horner and Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes to reach an agreement over who will have control.

It was announced that a conference between Horner, Hughes and members of the legislature had been called for tonight at the governor's request, in an effort to iron out the differences.

A series of hurried conferences today between F. Lynden Smith, director of public works; Alexander Wilson, administrative assistant; Dewitt Billman of the legislative Reference Bureau; Amos Richardson, Hughes' executive secretary, and Majority Leader Benjamin S. Adamowski, preceded the postponement. Consideration of amendments to the administration backed O'Grady bills was set for tomorrow.

Smith and Hughes conferred earlier today, but neither would comment. Richardson, Wilson and Speaker Louie E. Lewis also declined to comment on a separate conference they held.

Major Dispute

The major dispute hinged on whether the governor's highway department or Hughes would have jurisdiction of such a law and the patronage it provides.

In the background of the political maneuvering, bills to reduce the cost of auto license plates to a flat $5 a year have moved out of committees. Two years ago Hughes engineered a late session bill cutting the graduated fees.

Sponsors of other drivers' license plans sought to attract attention from the bills bearing the name of Edward P. O'Grady, Chicago Democrat.

Rep. Dennis J. Collins, DeKalb Republican, has a no-fee bill also awaiting discussion, with the secretary of state designated as the administering agent.

When the senate reconvenes late in the afternoon, the Benson-Menges compromise bill will be on second reading, the amendment stage.

Meanwhile Rep. F. W. Lewis, Robinson Democrat, asked approval by the senate judiciary committee of his bill to authorize judges to order traffic violators off the highways for a year or less.

CHILLY WEATHER INDICATION FOR THE CORONATION

Brilliant Spectacles Getting Under Way in London

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

London, May 11—"I stand on the threshold of a new life", King George VI told the prime ministers of his dominions and the representatives of India and the colonies today on the eve of his coronation as king-emperor.

His public servants had come through driving rain formally to pledge the allegiance of the half-billion British subjects they represented.

With his Scottish Queen Elizabeth by his side in great Buckingham palace, the King received the loyal greetings and addresses of each representative and pledged himself to service of the empire.

"Heavy are the responsibilities that have so suddenly and unexpectedly come upon me—but it gives me great courage to know I can count on your unfailing help and affection", he said.

The heavy morning rain, which drove first hardy enthusiasts from their seats outside the palace on tomorrow's coronation route, forced Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin to cancel a garden party for overseas visitors.

Weather Forecast

The weather report for tomorrow was "chilly, overcast skies".

Transportation problems beset the metropolis as a strike of 25,500 bus workers, tying up 5,000 of London's familiar red omnibuses, threatened to spread to subways and streetcars.

Executive transport workers called a special meeting to determine whether to call out trolley men to aid the striking bus drivers and conductors who are seeking a half-hour reduction in their working day, to seven and one-half hours.

London's underground railways were ordered to run all night long for the first time in history.

A small indication of the tumult that will grip the largest city in the world tomorrow was seen last night when huge crowds, estimated at more than 1,000,000 persons, massed in the streets while King George entertained 450 guests at a formal state dinner.

Wearing formal court dress of knee breeches, James W. Gerard, special American envoy to the coronation, was one of the guests of honor, sitting at the table at which the King presided.

Other Americans who sat side by side with royalty were Gen. John J. Pershing, in his full dress general's uniform, Admiral Hugh Rodman and Ambassador Robert W. Bingham.

day evening given by the Junior Woman's club of Amboy. The banquet was served in the Congregational church.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hillson and daughter were Sunday dinner guests at the William Foster home in Dixon.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy June visited Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rarrell Farthing of Sterling.

Leda and Ralph Yocum of Dixon were Sunday night supper guests at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yocum.

Mrs. L. B. Reid and daughter Edna Bell attended the mother-daughter banquet at the M. E. church in Amboy Saturday night.

John Timmerman and son of Minonk visited Sunday with his sister, Mrs. John Sullivan.

Dean Hillson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Hillson was operated on Saturday night for appendicitis. He is getting along nicely at the Amboy hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yocum were entertained Sunday at a family reunion and dinner at the home of Mrs. Yocum's mother, Mrs. Clara Fairchilds of Conover.

Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Miller and son Howard and Mr. and Mrs. George Killmer of Amboy were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Killmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hullah and family attended the graduating exercises of the rural schools Thursday evening held at the South Central school in Dixon. Their son Ivan being one of the thirty-one graduates.

Our school will close Wednesday with a picnic dinner at noon, Mrs. Williford of Dixon is the teacher.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Rockford, Ill., May 11—(AP)—George Enfield Frazer, of Chicago, nationally-known financial consultant, will deliver the Rockford College commencement address on June 14, college officials announced today. It will be the last commencement at which Dr. Gordon Chalmers, college president, will preside here. He has accepted the presidency of Kenyon College, Gambier, O.

ALLEGED CARD SHARKS

Rockford, Ill., May 11—(AP)—Seized here by detectives last night, James McDade, 37, of Chicago, and Charles Wells, 20, of Gary, Ind., were returned today to Elgin, Ill., where police said they faced a charge of fleecing a man of $30 in a card game.

Canada exported meats to the value of $24,220,000 during 1935.

Spanish War

Today's News Favors Insurgents' Drive Toward Madrid

Toledo, May 11—(AP)—Eleven attacks against this insurgent stronghold, 40 miles from Madrid, were repulsed with more than 2,000 government casualties, an insurgent communique reported today.

The government's field batteries sent shells screaming into the insurgents' supply roads and camps behind the lines in a pre-dawn prelude to their big push yesterday.

At 7 A. M. (1 A. M. C. S. T.) the government militiamen leaped over their parapets and streamed across open fields of the wide front toward the trenches of the defending insurgents.

In some sectors where the terrain permitted, the infantrymen were preceded by large cannon-carrying tanks.

Met Heavy Fire

The insurgents met the attacks with heavy fire of rifles and machine guns and hand grenades.

Insurgent artillerymen, meanwhile, pumped shells over the battlefields into reinforcements being concentrated behind the government lines.

Toledo, ancient imperial city south and slightly west of Madrid, fell to Generalissimo Francisco Franco last October when his forces rescued the Alcazar garrison from weeks of a dynamite-enforced starvation siege.

The government's push continued in a series of attacks—11 in all—until 4 P. M. when official dispatches reported the attackers had retired in disorder while Franco's men pursued them to their own trenches.

BILBAO BOMBED

Bilbao, May 11—(AP)—Eleven insurgent air raids within less than five hours blasted the outskirts of Bilbao today.

Although the most densely-inhabited sections of the center of Bilbao were unscathed, alarm spread that the air raids were a dress rehearsal for Gen. Emilio Mola's warning that insurgent forces would "bomb the city by land, sea and air without mercy unless Bilbao surrenders by Wednesday" (tomorrow).

The threat was made in pamphlets dumped into the city by insurgent planes.

A heavy artillery bombardment, covering the operations of a defense army of about 65,000 Basques and their Asturian allies, was reported today to have slowed up the insurgent encroachment north of Amorebieta.

40 DEAD IN MADRID

Madrid, May 11—(AP)—A night-long insurgent artillery bombardment left 40 persons dead and injured today and new ruins in the heart of the capital.

The shelling began after a night battle in University City, on the western edge of Madrid, where government troops were reported to have inflicted heavy casualties on an isolated insurgent garrison.

A temporary bridge, which the insurgents built across the shallow Manzanares river in order to re-establish their siege line with the University City outpost, was smashed by government fire.

PRESIDENT PRISONER

Paris, May 11—(AP)—President Manuel Azana of Spain was held a prisoner in suburban Barcelona for four days during the now-quelled anarchist revolt. Sam Baron, New York Socialist leader, said here today.

Baron, who was in Barcelona on his way to France from Valencia, the temporary seat of the Spanish government, said high government authorities estimated 2,500 lives were lost in the abortive uprising.

OCCUPY VILLAGES

Hendaye, Franco-Spanish Frontier, May 11—(AP)—Insurgent forces pressing towards Bilbao have occupied the mountain villages of Rigorta and Santa Cruz both east of Guernica, an insurgent communique reported today.

The advances said Basques fired and destroyed both towns before fleeing.

COMPLETE ARROW-HEAD

With Insurgents near Teruel, Spain May 11—(AP)—Gen. Francisco Franco's sun-browned veterans on the Teruel front, 60 miles from Valencia, occupied San Andres hill today to complete an arrow-shaped salient pointing toward the seat of Spanish government.

The advance apparently caught the Madrid-Valencia troops by surprise.

MT. MORRIS

Three local civic organizations, the American Legion, Business Men's league and Kiwanis club will join forces to promote a monster "Progress" or "dedication" day celebration for Mount Morris, probably on Saturday July 31, according to plans outlined this week by heads of the above bodies.

Announcement from Washington last Thursday that the present post office quarters will be vacated July 31, and the new federal building taken over on August 1 brought the suggestion from Dwight Sharer that the July date be appropriated for the celebration.

Inasmuch as equipment will be in place by that time and none of the stamps or other valuable will be transferred until Sunday Aug.

"... All the King's Men" in Dress Rehearsal

The tramp of marching regiments, the beat of martial music, the splendor of parade uniforms are increasingly evident in London as every effort is bent toward making the coronation of King George VI an unmatched spectacle. Above, the Scots Guards march behind skirling pipers, resplendent in huge shakos, colorful tunics and polished brass, just as they will be in the coronation parade. In the background is grim Tower of London.

1, the public would be given an excellent opportunity to inspect the quarters, Mr. Sharer stated in presenting the matter at the combined meeting of the above organizations last Friday evening.

Due to the fact that the Mount Morris office ranked fifth in postal receipts in the state last year, it is not considered outside the realm of possibility that Postmaster General Farley can be induced to preside at the dedication ceremonies, and an attempt will be made in this direction shortly. While to many this may seem a most ambitious move, the fact that Mr. Farley attended a similar function in Galesburg, a city with many thousands less receipts, some time ago gives hope that he can be secured for the day. His acceptance would assure the success of the celebration without doubt.

Captain L. C. Boineau of Chicago, who recently inspected the Kable Brothers 129th Infantry band paid the organization a fine compliment in a letter to Captain Howard Bronson this week when he stated that it was one of the finest of the many units he has inspected. His letter follows:

"You were very kind to have me to dinner in your home the evening of my inspection in Mount Morris and I thoroughly enjoyed your hospitality. If at any time your travels bring you to Chicago please give me the opportunity of having you as my guest at the officers' club of the regiment."

"I appreciated the concert your band gave, Captain Bronson, and you are to be congratulated on having such a splendid unit. Both Major Brown and I agree that the 129th Infantry band ranks either first or very close to first among all the units which we visited."

Further evidence of the splendid work being accomplished in the music department at the high school was demonstrated last week end at the state music contest at Normal, where the girls' glee club, girls' quartet, composed of Maryalce Olsen, Jane Devine, Helen Barnhizer and Lorene Devine placed in the first division.

Second division honors were captured by Helen Barnhizer in the girls' low voice competition; mixed chorus and mixed ensemble.

Friday evening a group composed of Maryalce Olsen, Jane Devine, Helen Barnhizer, Lorene Davis, Doris Zimmerman, Eldon Smith, Delbert Schell, Clarence Tracy, Lee Loomis, Matthias Huthansen and J. Leslie Pierce drove to Eureka, where the girls were entertained at the Delta Zeta sorority, while the boys stayed at the Tau Kappa Epsilon house at Eureka college. Mr. Pierce's alma mater.

Results in the state finals in which Mount Morris placed were as follows:

Mixed chorus, class C, Highland and Polo, first division; Gibson City, Mount Morris and Carthage, second division.

Girls' glee club, class C, Geneva, Gibson City, Mount Morris and Roodhouse, first division; Highland, Oxford high school, Washington and Winchester, second division.

Girls' low voice: Onarga, Toulon, and Centralia, first division; West Aurora, Mount Morris, Glenbard, Gibson City, Reynolds, Adair, Avon, Tonica, Waverly, Casey and Gillespie, second division.

Girls' medium voice: Avon, Centralia, Mount Morris, Glenbard, West Aurora, West Chicago and Newark, first division; Bigserville and Colchester, second division.

Mixed ensembles: Greenfield,

Centralia, Glenbard and Des Plaines, first division, Mount Morris, Gibson City and Roanoke, second division.

VIOLA CENTER

Viola Center—Mrs. Bertha Bresson closed her school for the term Friday and held a picnic for the district and close friends Sunday. After a delicious picnic dinner was served several games and contests were enjoyed by all.

Hepburn Center Of New Mystery

Hollywood, May 11—(AP)—Amused film colonists tried to piece together today the puzzle of why Katharine Hepburn slipped into Hollywood mysteriously.

It all started when a man with dark whiskers and a female companion alighted from a transcontinental train at Upland, orange belt town yesterday.

Mrs. Steve Allee, wife of an Upland taxi service owner, said she was sure the woman was Miss Hepburn, but the man, wearing a cowboy outfit, could have been almost anybody.

Two hours later Miss Hepburn showed up at the studio.

Rumors that Miss Hepburn's companion was Howard Hughes, film director and millionaire aviation enthusiast, were unconfirmed. His housekeeper said she "had heard" he was back in town.

Don't Sleep When Gas Presses Heart

If you want to really GET RID OF GAS and terrible bloating, don't expect to do it by just doctoring your stomach with harsh, irritating alkalies and "gas tablets." Most GAS is lodged in the stomach and upper intestine and is due to old poisonous matter in the constipated bowels that are loaded with ill-causing bacteria.

If your constipation is of long standing, enormous quantities of dangerous bacteria accumulate. Then your digestion is upset. GAS often presses heart and lungs, making life miserable. You can't eat or sleep. Your head aches. Your back aches. Your complexion is sallow and pimply. Your breath is foul. You are a sick, grouchy, wretched, unhappy person. YOUR SYSTEM IS POISONED.

Thousands of sufferers have found in Adierika the quick, scientific way to rid their systems of harmful bacteria. Adierika rid you of gas and cleanses foul poisons out of BOTH upper and lower bowels. Give your bowels a REAL cleaning with Adierika. Get rid of GAS. Adierika does not gripe—is not habit forming.

NEW ELECTRIC LAMP AFFORDS BRIGHTER GLOW

No Extra Current Required By Recent Discovery

Cleveland, May 11.—(AP)—A new electric lamp that gives 10 per cent more light simply by taking a double twist in the filament was announced Monday to the advanced lighting conference of utility engineers.

No extra current is required. That is, a 60-watt lamp with the new filament gives 10 per cent more light and lasts as long.

That announcement was made by J. E. Kewley, vice-president in charge of the general electric incandescent lamp department here at Nela Park. He said these lamps this year would give the public $16,500,000 worth of extra light without added cost to the consumer.

By 1946, he continued this additional light will be valued at $60,000,000 annually and during the next five years the total will exceed $200,000,000.

Is Double Coiled

The new double twist, while apparently as simple as child's play, required years of research. The ordinary tungsten filament is coiled, like a spring. The double twist takes this same coil, and coils it again.

The result is a filament just half as long and about twice as fat. It contains no more tungsten wire. Its production required refinement of the wire and more work in coiling.

In the short, fat shape is the secret of the 10 per cent more light. The gas in a lamp bulb, being in motion, cools the filament. Cooling cuts down light. The short, fat coil exposes less surface to the gas, it was announced, and so stays hotter and gives more light.

Heart Attack Is Fatal To Director Of Conservation

Urbana, Ill., May 11.—(AP)—Gus H. Radebaugh, 51, former state director of conservation, died at his home Monday of a heart attack. He had been manager of the Urbana-Champaign sanitary district since 1923.

Radebaugh was an active member of several sanitary district organizations, serving as secretary-treasurer of the Illinois association of sanitary districts and affiliated municipal officials and the central states sewage association.

He was director of the state conservation department under Governor Len Small in 1928. For several years he was a member of the University of Illinois machine shop staff and had written articles for several trade journals.

He was survived by his widow, four children, his mother and a sister.

Hints to Gardeners

by Gilbert Bentley
Flower Expert
Ferry Seed Institute

How to Grow Sweet Peas

OBSERVANCE of several important rules will assure the gardener a gratifying growth of sweet peas if seeds are of good quality and weather conditions not freakish.

Start the seeds indoors in coarse, gritty sand in a flat box. Germination is more certain than when seeds are planted in open soil. Soak the sand thoroughly after planting. The water should be sunny is not required.

Keep the flat before a sunny window and maintain an even temperature of about 70 degrees. Seedlings should be ready to prick out in about ten days.

Prepare soil outdoors as follows: Dig a trench 18 inches deep and one foot wide. Place three to four inches of rotted cow manure in trench and mix with bottom soil.

Prick out seedlings from flat soon after they push through sand. Set them outdoors, as soon as soil can be worked, about 4 to 5 inches apart in the row, covering the roots well.

Do not water until vines are well established (about ten days). Lay hose on ground and soak soil thoroughly to the full length of roots.

Light, frequent sprinklings are damaging. Lateral roots will grow near surface and be destroyed when soil is tilled and cracked in hot weather.

Do not plant against the south side of a building. Plant preferably along a wire fence or in the open. If on an open plot, provide support for vines. Drive eight-foot stakes two feet into ground at each end of the row and string cord horizontally and vertically.

Prepare a cheese cloth cover to place over flowers during the five midday hours when sun is warmest, to prevent fading and burning of flowers.

For a longer blooming season, pick flowers regularly.

"Big Bill" Thompson Opens Up On His Return Home

Chicago, May 11.—(AP)—Millions may wait in breathless awe for the crowning of King George VI tomorrow, but to former Mayor William Hale Thompson:

"A coronation is a coronation. That's Great Britain's business, not mine."

"Big Bill" Thompson discussed it today in an interview—but he'd rather talk about fishing.

He has just returned from five weeks at his lodge of Three Narrows Lake, about 50 miles from Sudbury, Ont., Canada.

The mayor—he's still "Mister Mayor" to his associates—said he hadn't read newspapers or listened to the radio for weeks.

"But coronation is all they talk about in Canada," he said. "When I was in the hotel at Sudbury a few days ago I noticed the proprietor having the place all decorated in gala style. I asked him if there was something going on, and he said, 'there's going to be a coronation.'"

"I said, 'hell, I thought that was in England'."

Years ago "Big Bill" threatened to punch the nose of the late King George V.

But, he explained, he never really had a quarrel with the king—it was with the Chicago superintendent's choice of history books.

"Those books," said the mayor, "pictured George Washington as a traitor, John Paul Jones as a drunken pirate, and Patrick Henry as a flop-house bum. We have no right to turn our children against our forebears."

"But," he added with a booming laugh, "The papers had a lot of fun with it, so what the hell!"

Auto Accidents Took Eight Lives

Chicago, May 12.—(AP)—Automobile accidents in Illinois over the week-end took at least eight lives, a survey showed today. Six of the deaths occurred yesterday.

Collision of their automobile with a stock truck killed Rex Melvin, 21, of Sciota, and Haskie Rutledge, 24, of Good Hope, near Macomb.

Joann McNally, 6, of Springfield, and her aunt, Miss Angelina Calcaterra, 16, were killed and three persons were injured when the car of Frank J. McNally plunged down an embankment after striking a culvert near Greenville.

Ebert Christenson, 45, of Kankakee, a past commander of the American Legion post there, was killed when his car struck a railroad underpass.

Charles B. Mies of Saunemin was injured fatally and his wife was hurt seriously when their car was struck by a Wabash railroad train (Banner Blue) near Eminston.

Slander Suit Of Aimee's Daughter Not On Calendar

Los Angeles, May 11.—(AP)—The $1,080,000 slander suit of Rheba Crawford against Aimee Semple McPherson, was taken off the court calendar Monday by Judge Fletcher Bowron. Joseph L. Fainer, attorney for Miss Crawford said he would have a "complete statement explaining the situation" later in the day.

Fainer said there had been a number of conferences between attorneys for both sides. The postponement was asked to allow further time for the lawyers to get together on a possible settlement out of court.

ANOTHER LABOR DISPUTE LIKELY LEADERS STATE

Washington, May 11.—(AP)—Labor leaders predicted today entry of the Committee for Industrial Organization into the transportation field might lead to another dispute with the American Federation of Labor.

John L. Lewis accepted the transport workers union as an affiliate of the C. I. O.—his first major venture outside the mass production industries.

Those who foresaw new conflict between the rival labor groups pointed out that craft unions of the American Federation of Labor are intended to include all transportation workers except those belonging to the railroad brotherhoods.

Lewis wrote Michael J. Quill, president of the transport workers, that his group could take in all workers "employed in or about passenger transportation facilities, excluding railroad systems".

The railroad brotherhoods are not affiliated with either the American Federation of Labor or the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Lewis' grant of power to the new affiliate might include bus drivers, street car and subway workers, seamen, and airline employees.

Lewis and Green have disagreed many times since 1935 C. I. O. unions were suspended from the federation for "insurrection" in seeking independently to organize mass production workers.

The question of what union should have the right to organize a certain group of workers has arisen frequently.

Illinois Briefs

Louisville, Ky.—(AP)—Frank W. Bradby, 59, vice president of Hillerich & Bradby Co., manufacturers of baseball bats and golf clubs and a native of Lebanon, Ill., died after a two weeks' illness.

Kankakee.—(AP)—Railroad officials investigated the derailment of the locomotive of a Big Four passenger train enroute to Chicago from Cincinnati. No one was injured. The locomotive was thrown on its side shortly after pulling away from the station. The 10 coaches remained on the track.

Rockford.—(AP)—A jury has been selected to try Mrs. Helen Clark, 43, on charges of slaying her husband, Richard, 53, with a shotgun. The prosecution announced it would not seek the death penalty. Mrs. Clark has pleaded "not guilty by reason of insanity."

Decatur.—(AP)—Two hundred delegates attending the Illinois Grain Dealers Association were told of the gains made by farmers and laborers through organization. This point was featured in addresses by S. W. Wilder, Cedar Rapids, Ia., and R. B. Bowden, St. Louis, president and secretary respectively of the Grain & Feed Dealers National Association. Officers were to be elected today.

Starved Rock.—(AP)—Illinois publishers and state officials closed their four-day tour of Illinois outdoor recreational centers today with a boat trip up the Illinois river.

John Casey, assistant director of the state department of public works and buildings, asked the cooperation of Illinois publishers in promoting the parks.

Speaking at a dinner, attended by representatives of 40 newspapers, last night, Casey said the state hoped to build a system of parks along the Illinois-Michigan canal from Joliet to Utica that would give Illinois the greatest park system "this side of the Atlantic ocean."

Casts from Taft's Dream Museum Sold to Ill. University

Chicago, May 11.—(AP)—Sale of over 200 plaster of paris casts from the late Lorado Taft's "Dream Museum" to the University of Illinois was approved in Probate court last week, records disclosed today.

Attorney Carl M. Johnson said the sculpture, now in Taft's studio, would be placed in the art department museum at Champaign as a memorial to the sculptor. The university paid $12,000 for the casts, he said.

The Taft estate, first estimated at $10,000, may reach $25,000, an inventory filed today showed. His widow, Ada B. Taft, is the only legatee.

Happy Duke and Mrs. Simpson Together Again at Castle Cande

Radiantly happy, Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson and the Duke of Windsor posed for this striking radiophoto in the gardens of the Chateau de Cande at Monts, France. It is the first picture of the famous couple since their reunion after the granting of Mrs. Simpson's divorce decree absolute. They chatted amiably, smiling often while being photographed, acting like any other lovers. While wedding plans were kept secret, spokesmen for Mrs. Simpson indicated the marriage of the former Baltimore girl and the ex-king might take place soon after the coronation, May 12. Edward has chosen the Duke of Kent, his brother, as "best man," it was said.

METHODS OF BAIT CASTING

By Robert Page Lincoln

There are really only two logical methods of bait casting, namely, the overhead cast and the side cast, more generally known as the "side swipe." Side casting may be stated as being the instinctive method of casting the way a person would cast if he had obtained no specific instructions. In the field of bait casting the side cast is looked upon with no little scorn.

That a reckless casting of the lure in a boat will accomplish anything but a desirable effect, and may even hook a boat companion in the face, head or body, militates against the use of this method while in a craft.

There are times when a side cast is necessary method of casting, when one wishes to get up under the overhanging branches of trees along shore. Only the side cast will elude the low hanging branches and will permit you to place your baits up close to shore.

In overhead casting the rod is not carried out to the side, but is brought up vertically toward the center of the right shoulder. At the back termination of this position the right hand, holding the rod will be opposite the right ear.

On this back cast the rod pauses at about a 45 degree angle from which the cast is made throwing the rod back so far that the tip hangs down behind one ruins all chances of results in overhead casting.

When the forward cast is made (rod to be kept straight up and down), it should never be carried forward to the horizontal line, that is with rod on a straight line out from you. When the rod is carried to this point a certain loss of control over the line is emphasized. Some contend that the rod, at its extreme forward point, should assume a 45 degree angle. From observation it might be stated that casters are likely to go below this point, probably to a 35 degree angle, which would not disturb lure and reel control, nor make the cast inaccurate. The best that can be said on this score is not to carry the rod down to the horizontal plane.

To aid in accuracy, aim at the spot to be cast to. This is done in one move, in so many seconds, ere the rod is thrown back up over the right shoulder. The spool of the reel is in a vertical position, with the handle of the reel straight up at the start of the cast. During the act of carrying the rod up for the forward cast, the thumb must necessarily be on the spooled line. The thumb is not completely taken off the spool, even when the cast is made—that is, the line should be left just lightly brushing the thumb, but not sufficiently so as to slow up the momentum of the revolving spool in any degree. Only by this intimate contact with the spool can there be the instant stoppage of the same at the moment desired by gradual thumb pressure on the same.

It is important to know that the position of the reel, handle up, is to be retained throughout the cast, that is to say, your hand is not moved from this position; your right hand thumb nail always faces left; the thumb never comes into any other position than with nail showing left. Get this point straight, because on it hinges the success or non-success of your casting. It is a good idea to go through the motions of casting without actually casting; thus, aiming at your mark you cast to it, carrying the rod up vertical in a straight line toward the center of your right shoulder, carrying the rod back so that your hand is just opposite your right ear, then casting forward and allowing your rod to travel to an angle not lower than that of approximately 35 degrees. Familiarize yourself thoroughly with these moves so that you can "carry through" with ease. Then start your casting, using, if possible, a casting weight to be purchased in any sporting goods store, and you will find that you have really accomplished something.

Only by repeated practice in casting will you be able to judge instinctively how much force to put into your cast to carry the lure to the place desired. Practice makes perfect, and also makes flawless one's judgment. There is, however, a most important feature to be discussed and that is what transpires during the interval when the lure is about to drop to water, and when it is necessary to shift the rod from the right hand to the left in the usual formula for operating the bait rod and reel.

Some fishermen shift the rod from the right to the left hand while the bait is still in the air, but close to dropping to water, others wait until the bait just about touches water before making the change. This passing of the rod from the right to the left hand is very important. Long practice makes it possible to shift almost automatically, but the amateur will find it no less than a stumbling block. When the shift is made from right to left hand the hand closes on the forward cork grip of the rod, the thumb and forefinger applied to the line, while the other three fingers loop around the handle of the rod. Almost simultaneously the thumb and forefinger of the right hand make contact with the reel handle and the reeling process is started. It is possible that previous to this move the amateur will have trouble thumbing his reel. Unless the reel is properly thumbed, there is likely to be trouble and a lot of it, chief of which is the over-running of the line, creating the backlash of evil renown. Instinctively, one must know how much pressure, or contact, one must make with the revolving spool as the line and lure goes out. I would say that therein lies the secret of successful casting from the start. For instance, if considerable force is thrown into a cast and one sees, in so many split seconds, that there was far too much force to carry the lure to the destination aimed at, he will at once clamp his thumb down on the spool to stop it. This will not be sufficient to check the revolutions of the same and there will be the inevitable bird's-nest of massed upline, the same going out faster than the spools can assemble it.

thumb must keep in touch with that line. If the momentum of the spool is desired lessened as the bait goes out, a little touching of the spool with the thumb will accomplish results in acting as a brake to slow it up. These things may sound difficult on paper, but when you have your rod in hand you will at once see through it all. If the right amount of force has been put into the cast and the bait is dropping with the right amount of checked speed, then as it drops to water the shift is made from right to left; the bait drops to water; and the right hand thumb and forefinger start reeling. The move is absurdly simple, but until one becomes proficient in thumbing the reel, putting the right amount of force into the cast and making the shift of the rod from one hand to the other, it may seem even difficult.

Needless to say, correct and accurate casting cannot be done save with the proper outfit. An improper rod that is too stiff, a reel that does not function smoothly, and a line that is too heavily all help to cut down on the effectiveness of casting. The recent invention of seamless tubular bait fastening rods, having proper weight and perfect action, has aided much in bait casting. As for the best caliber of line to use, it may be stated that for ordinary light weight lures, the 15-pound test soft-brained lines are useful, although the 18-pound test hard-brained lines are most popular in actual fishing.

Remember, lastly, in your casting, that it is your wrist, hand and forearm that does the work. The more closely this fact is recognized and abided by, the more certain one will be of success and a speedy assimilation of the simple rules of the art.

IN MEMORIAM

(In memory of Patrick McCoy, Ohio, Ill., who died a year ago, May 3, 1936.)

The moon and stars are shining On a lone and silent grave; Beneath lies one we dearly loved, But whom we could not save.

Friends may think we have forgotten When at times they see us smile; Little do they know the heartache That our smile hides all the while.

YOU SAVE ON THE INITIAL COST AND GET Low Cost Per Mile WITH Firestone STANDARD TIRES

It really doesn't pay to drive on tires after the non-skid is worn off—in fact the last 1,000 miles of wear in a tire are only worth about 38¢. Why take the risk of a dangerous skid, an accident or perhaps a fatal blowout when new Firestone Tires cost so little.

More and more motorists are buying Firestone Standard Tires because they get the benefits of Gum-Dipping, the Firestone Patented Process that counteracts internal friction and heat which ordinarily destroy tire life. Motorists get longer non-skid mileage and unusually low cost per mile with dependable safety. It is almost unbelievable that so much tire could be bought for so little.

You Save because when you buy a Firestone Standard Tire you get first grade quality. In fact this amazing tire value could only be made to sell at these low prices by building them in large volume. That's why you save in first cost and get low cost per mile.

You Save yourself from blowouts and accidents. The Patented Gum-Dipping process gives greater protection against dangerous blowouts. Firestone's patented construction of Two Extra Layers of Gum-Dipped Cords Under the Tread bind the tread and cord body into one inseparable unit. The wider and flatter tread of long wearing, tough rubber saves you from dangerous skids.

You Save by buying now as tire prices are advancing. The price of crude rubber has gone up 119% and cotton more than 26% during the past two years. Tire prices are very likely to go higher. Come in today and see how little it costs to get a set of safe, dependable Firestone Standard Tires.

ROCHELLE NEWS

By Arthur T. Guest

Rochelle—The officers and members of the Presbyterian church have planned an elaborate all day celebration Sunday, May 16, honoring the observance of the 25th anniversary of the ordination of their pastor, the Rev. Frank A. Campbell.

The Rev. Campbell's pastorate in Rochelle has been longer than half the time he has spent in the ministry, and his record of 13 years in Rochelle as pastor of the Presbyterian church, is longer than any pastorate ever held by a minister of the local church. The Rev. Israel Brundage was in charge of the Presbyterian church here for twelve years and his son, Robert C. Brundage, is now serving as an elder of the church.

Rev. Campbell's twenty-five years in the ministry have been interesting ones. He was ordained May 16, 1912, at Hamden, Ohio and his first pastorate which was for two years was at Hamden, followed by five years of mission work in Tennessee. He came to Moweaqua, the home of Mrs. Albert E. King-ma, of Rochelle, and was pastor
there at the time of the World War when he resigned to enter war work.

After the Armistice, the Rev.
Campbell located at Rossville, and for a short time was pastor there, followed by four years at Lexington which was his last charge before he came to Rochelle.

The Rev. Campbell holds the office of stated clerk of the Ottawa Presbytery, which is the only permanent office of the Presbytery, and is a charter member and past president of the County Ministerial Association of Ogle county. He has twice represented the Presbytery in general assembly meetings.

Mrs. Campbell, was Gertrude Dowling of Cincinnati, and was graduated from the University of Cincinnati and was an instructor in the schools there, prior to her marriage to Frank A. Campbell,
June 28, 1916.

Since coming to Rochelle, Mrs.
Campbell has been active in church work, in all it's auxiliaries and has been a member of the choir for many years. She has also been a member in the D. A. R. Woman's club and other organizations. Their home has been in Rochelle for the last thirteen years, with their three children, John and Eleanor, who are in high school, and James who is a student at Knox college at Gaysburg.

In the ordination service of a Presbyterian minister it is customary to have a three-part service, a sermon, a charge to the pastor, and a charge to the congregation.

The celebration of the 25th anniversary of the ordination of Rev.
Frank A. Campbell on Sunday,
May 16, will follow this general routine for the afternoon service.

The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Edgar W. Smith of Streator, a minister of wonderful personality and

ASHTON NEWS

Ashton—The Ashton Woman's club will enjoy their annual May breakfast Saturday at 11:45 o'clock. The breakfast will be served by the members of the Eastern Star in the Masonic hall and each member of the Woman's club may bring a guest. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Lucy Hart or Mrs. Mildred Smith not later than Thursday, May 13. An interesting program has been planned.

Several members of the Ashton Woman's club motored to Dixon Thursday to attend the annual convention of the 13th District Illinois Federation of Women's clubs. Those who attended were Mrs. Diana Krug, Mrs. Mary Schaeffer, Mrs. Elma Klingebiel, Mrs. Golden Olive Vogeler, Mrs. Mabel Ullrich, Calhoun, Mrs. Ruth Kersten, Mrs. Mrs. Mildred Smith and Mrs. Luella Jennings, all members of the Lee county club chorus. Others were Mrs. Mabel Schaeffer, Mrs. Doll Orner, Mrs. Olive Vauple, Mrs. Nell Hart, Miss Lucy Hart, Miss Lucille Hart, Mrs. Betty Griffith, Mrs. Olive Bergeson, Mrs. Ethel Wagner, Mrs. Mabel Kersten, Mrs. Elizabeth Stephan and Mrs. Mildred Clover.

70 Piece Band Here May 14
Supt. O. A. Fackler of the Union schools of Sterling and formerly of the Ashton high school, will bring his 70-piece junior high school band to this city Friday of this week when they will play a concert in the Mills-Petrie Memorial gymnasium. The band, directed by Gunar Benson, competed in the state contest after winning first honors in the regional at LaSalle. Frances Kersten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orno Kersten is the bass drummer. The concert is being sponsored by the park board of the Ashton Woman's club as a benefit for Griffith park. The ladies hope to raise sufficient funds to make an attractive picnic ground for the enjoyment of local citizens this summer. A large fireplace with chimney has been built and also a small stone grill. Some clearing of box elder brush and underbrush has been done. The community plans to sponsor a picnic supper in the park as soon as weather permits.

Miss Gertrude Eich has opened her Petite Beauty shop in the first floor suite of rooms Dr. C. R. Boots office building. The rooms have been newly decorated, and with the addition of some very nice beauty parlor fixtures and equipment make a very attractive appearance. Miss Eich, who is very well known here has recently completed her course at a beauty culture school, and will appreciate the patronage of the people of the community.

The grounds of the Mills and Petrie Memorial building have been attractively landscaped the past week by the Dixon Floral company, the planting being planned and supervised by Louis Knick.

The annual birthday party of the Woman's Missionary society of the Evangelical church will be held in the church basement Wednesday at 2:30 P. M. Mrs. G. W. Kendell will have charge of the devotion and Mrs. Fred Schaefer will present the lesson study. Mrs. Caroline Vauple and her committee will serve lunch and an interesting meeting is being anticipated. Each member is urged to bring a guest and don't forget to bring your birthday money to this meeting.

The warm sunny weather of the past few days has opened up the asparagus cutting season in earnest for those engaged in that occupation in this vicinity. A number from Ashton are employed in the Rochelle Asparagus company which started production this week. This company has 900 acres under contract and expects to have 135 to 150 men cutting in the fields at the peak of the season.

Three quarts of carefully distilled motor oil go into the making of every two quarts of Iso-Vis "D." "The quart that's not for sale" is the material that is removed by Standard's patented Propane and Chlorox processes—and consists of sludge-forming, carbon-forming, unstable portions which cause high oil consumption. What's left—the Iso-Vis "D" which you buy from any Standard Oil Dealer—consequently is the finest, most efficient kind of lubricant. It stays on the job in your engine longer. It keeps your oil level up—and your oil costs down. Change to Iso-Vis "D," and see!
